Car Skids Into Truck On Rt. 14 Killing Driver

Michigan Man Is
Victim Of Crash
Wednesday Night

Fred Engelke, 40, of Ann Arbor, Mich., was dead upon arrival at Salem City Hospital after crashing into a truck at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday, three miles east of Salem on Route 14.

He suffered a broken neck and fractured skull when the car he was driving "went around a curve too fast and slid into a semi truck-trailer," driven by John Clark, 36, of East Earl, Pa., state patrolmen said.

Engelke was headed west and the truck was going east. Clark was unhurt.

The truck driver said the victim's car started to skid first toward the right side of the road but slid to the left side when Engelke attempted to bring the car under control.

The entire left side of the automobile was demolished when it smashed into the truck.

Mr. Engelke was a technician for the Physicists Research Co. of Ann Arbor.

The truck was carrying venetian blinds. Damage to the truck was slight. Engelke's car bounced back after ramming the truck and was heavily damaged.

It was the second fatal traffic accident on Route 14 east of Salem in less than a week. Last Saturday one person was fatally injured and four other persons hospitalized when a truck hit three cars coming up the Millville hill.

Mr. Engelke was born April 4, 1907, in Cincinnati, the son of Fred and Minnie Sterner Engelke. They survive. Other survivors are his wife, Dorothy, and brother, Dr. Otto Engelke, of Ann Arbor.

The body is at the Stark Memorial pending shipment to Ann Arbor this evening.

Five Autos Damaged In Local Accidents

Five autos were damaged in three local accidents Wednesday, although no one was injured, police reported.

A car operated by Hubert S. Knickerbocker of 182 S. Broadway was struck by another operated by Andrew Martin of 590 N. Howard ave. at the corner of Pine and W. Pershing st. at 4:35 p. m. Wednesday.

Knickerbocker was driving west on Pershing and the Martin car drove through a stop sign and hit his left front fender, police said. The car hit a light pole, bounced off and tore down a picket fence.

The front end of Martin's car was caved in and the Knickerbocker vehicle was badly damaged in the front and side.

A truck driven by Robert Votaw of 180 W. Third st. and a car driven by Herman Grove of R. D. 1, North Jackson, collided at S. Ellsworth and Pershing at 11:05 a. m. Wednesday. Votaw was making a right turn off Ellsworth when Grove made a left turn in front of him, policemen reported. The car was damaged.

Robert J. Muhleman of 174 W. Fifth st., driving south on N. Lincoln at 12:55 p. m. Wednesday, collided with the rear of a parked car owned by Ruth Whinnery of R. D. 2, Salem, and a city parking meter. The front of the Muhleman car and the rear of the other were damaged.

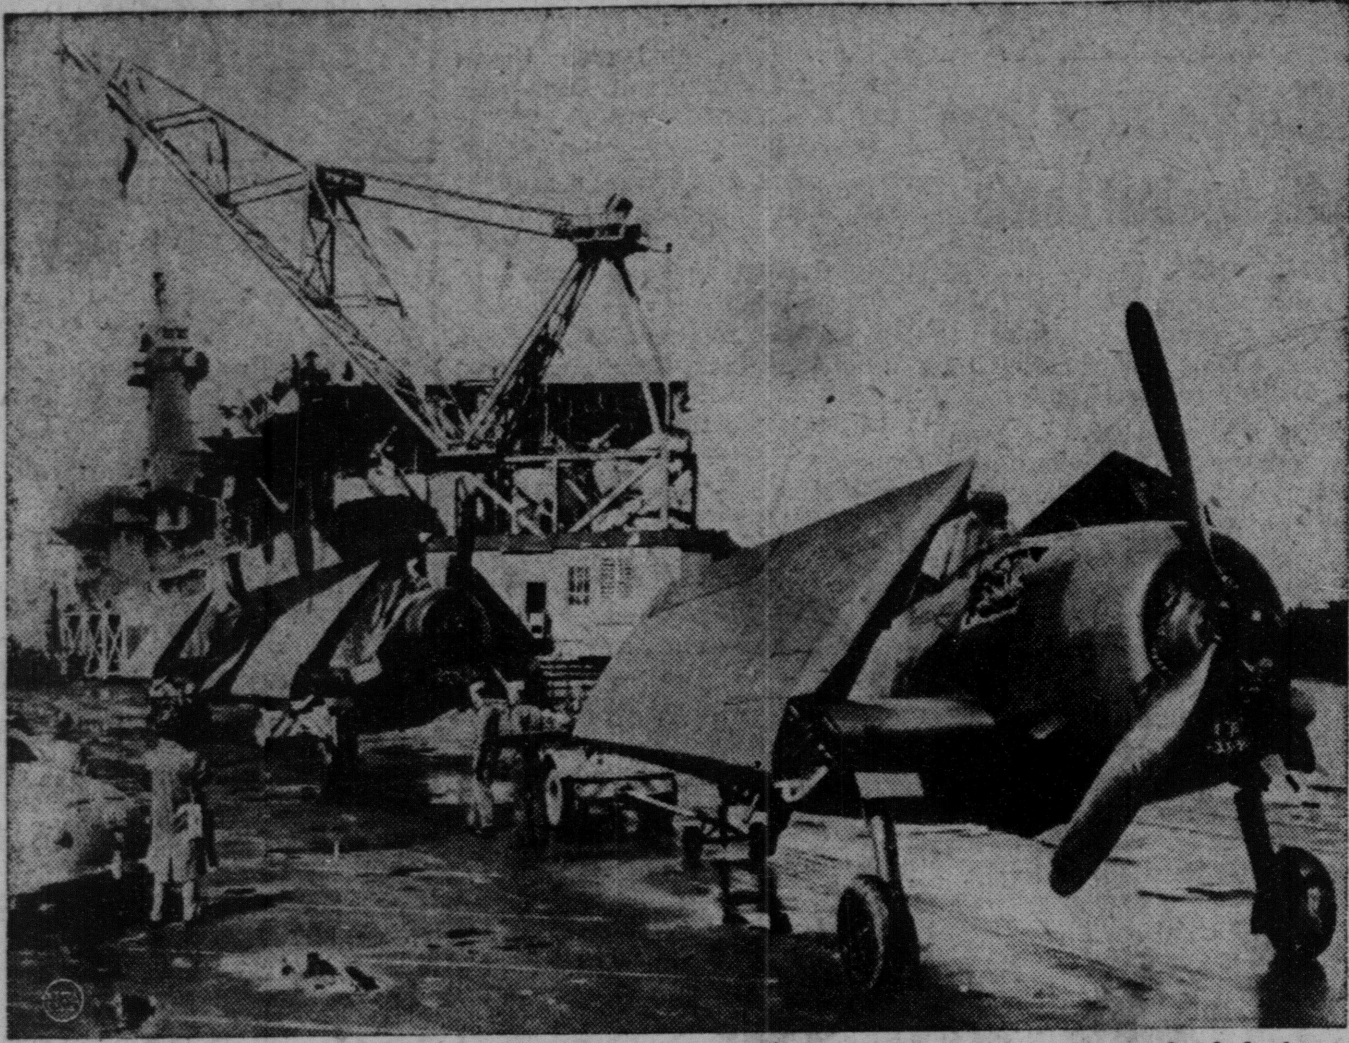

County Concert Group Requests Drive Reports

Due to the limited seating capacity of the High School auditorium, campaign captains and team members of the Northern Columbiana County Community Concert Association are urged by the officers to make their reports as soon as possible to Mrs. Curtis Vaughan, headquarters secretary, in the Metzger Hotel.

The headquarters phone is 4523. Early reports will assist the executive officers and directors who meet at 8 p. m., Saturday in the ladies parlor of the Presbyterian Church with Harry Beall, New York representative of Community Concerts. Artist talent for the series will be selected at that time.

14 Military Prisoners Burn Tragic Fire Strikes New Mexico Base

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 9.—(AP)—Fourteen military prisoners—trapped behind bars—died late yesterday when a fire swept through a wooden Sandia secret weapons base guardhouse.

Two other prisoners were injured critically. Seven men were overcome by smoke which boiled out of the temporary barracks type structure on the A-bomb-assembly reservation.

The fire apparently broke out in a coal-burning stove at the far western tip of the L-shaped building. It swept with incredible speed.

Flames licked out from the ceiling and the corridor to the intercell blocks where the men were held prisoners behind heavy mesh wire.

The fourteen died of suffocation and burns. Authorities said 13 apparently were dead when taken from the building. The 14th died at a hospital.

Two guards—only occupants of the prison in addition to the 16 prisoners—were at the far end of the building. They were overcome by smoke. They are Cpl. Richard A. Miller, 27, Stockton, Calif., and Pvt. Wilbur Henry, 22, South Zanesville, Ohio.

The provost marshal, Lt. Col. Ralph Tolve, and post police and Prison Officer Lt. Stephen H. Perry, and three unidentified civilian firemen also were overcome by smoke.

Sandia is a field installation of the armed forces special weapons project. It works closely with Los Alamos atomic installation, 60 miles to the north, and nearby Kirtland field, the Air Force's special weapons command.

The fire was sighted at 7:35 p. m. A prisoner called out to one of the guards. In approximately 15 minutes the building was gutted.

The guard, Corporal Miller, said he saw a flash of light and called out to Private Henry to sound the fire alarm.

"I started to try to release the prisoners from the cell blocks," he related to investigators. "Before I was able to unlock the first door, the flame and heat and smoke drove me back."

Henry said he sounded the fire alarm and tried to get the prisoners out "but there was fire all up and down the hallway and I couldn't get to the door. When the fire department got there, I helped them remove the prisoners."

The guards were quoted by Major Kenneth Kolster, public information officer, as saying there was little outcry from the prisoners after the initial alarm.

Overcome By Fumes, Canton Doctor Dies

CANTON, March 9.—Dr. Karl J. Simon, 43, died in the Mercy Hospital today from the effects of fumes inhaled while refinishing a piece of furniture in his basement last night.

Dr. Simon was using a varnish remover to prepare his daughter's desk for refinishing when he was overcome.

City Workers Placing 85 New Street Signs

Eighty-five new street markers, ordered by the city almost a year ago and delivered in December, are being placed by service department workers.

The signs will be erected, according to Frank K. Wilson, service director, as fast as weather permits. Some must be put in the ground on standards but workmen will have to wait until spring to set the poles.

The city purchased the signs from the Lyle Sign Co., of Milwaukee.

Outlook Rosy For Business

Coal Strike Damage
Not Lasting, Belief

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(AP)—The 1950 business outlook, badly clouded by the coal strike, was reported clearing nicely today to a forecast of sunny and generally prosperous.

President Truman's Council of Economic Advisers, while not issuing any statements, reportedly felt that the mine shutdown brought a bad fright but no lasting damage.

The Council, informed officials said, is again standing on its official January appraisal that for 1950 "the economic outlook is good."

Some federal economists feel the pent-up production which now is released may give an extra fillip to business, sales and employment, in the process of catching up on deferred orders.

Others, who had feared a slump after midyear, now believed a let down may be postponed—possibly even until next Spring—when the usual seasonal upturn might cancel it entirely.

Emphasizing that it is too early to gauge the force of industry's rebound, one top-ranking economist noted the ambitious schedules set for restoring output in the steel, auto and metal-working industries. He commented:

"I can't see anything except a very favorable prospect in the coming months."

This could be upset by more big strikes. The impressive gains won by John L. Lewis' miners is expected to inspire other unions to more aggressive demands.

Economists find the outlook much as described in the annual economic report to Congress 60 days ago.

One of the widely-accepted assumptions of January is not panning out: Veterans are not rushing to spend their GI insurance refunds.

One official said the ex-service-men are showing "a good deal more prudence than in the case of bonuses in the past. Some are holding the checks; others are paying off debts."

Although unemployment rose 204,000 in February to a new post-war high, the Census Bureau finds little change in the job situation.

Judith Coplon Gets 15 Years

Gubitchev Is Ordered
Back To Russia

NEW YORK, March 9.—(AP)—Judith Coplon was sentenced to 15 years in jail today for plotting to spy for Russia. Valentin A. Gubitchev, her partner, received 15 years suspended sentence and was ordered deported to Russia within two weeks.

Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan ordered the suspended sentence after U.S. Attorney Irving Saypol said the Secretary of State and Attorney General had recommended his return to the Soviet Union.

Saypol said the recommendation was the outcome of conferences between the State and Justice departments.

Miss Coplon was sentenced to five years on a charge of espionage and 15 years on the count of attempted espionage, the sentences to run concurrently.

Gubitchev received a suspended sentence and was ordered deported by Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan at the recommendation of the government.

Before the judge spoke Gubitchev declared in a courtroom statement that the case had been "artificially manufactured" against him.

Hard Coal Contract Makes Peace General

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Basic agreement on terms of a new anthracite labor contract brought prospects today of comparative peace in the entire coal industry for some time ahead.

John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers Union, and anthracite operators announced last night they were in accord on the principles of a settlement. They left final details to lawyers, expecting to ratify the final agreement today.

The contract covering the 78,000 hard coal miners of Northeastern Pennsylvania is expected to be patterned closely after the soft coal pact—which calls for a 70-cent daily wage boost for miners plus a 10-cent increase in the previous 20-cent tonnage royalty for welfare payments.

Lewis had asked hard coal operators for a bigger royalty increase than the 10-cent boost won in soft coal. But it was reported he finally agreed to the same royalty increase. Terms were not announced by the anthracite negotiators.

Saltsman Ousted As Mahoning School Head

YOUNGSTOWN, March 9.—(AP)—Edward A. Saltsman, former Carroll county superintendent of schools and head of Mahoning county schools since 1945, was notified Wednesday that his present contract expiring July 31 will not be renewed.

Saltsman's administration of the county superintendent's office was criticized as loose last summer and three candidates running on an anti-Saltsman platform at the general election last November were elected to the county board of education.

Doctor Took Law Into Own Hands, Jury Told

Files To Back 'Red' Charges Will Be Sought

Sen. McCarthy Told
His Information May Be Subpoenaed

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(AP)—Senate investigators today put Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) on notice that they will expect him to produce the files on which he based his charges of Communist infiltration in the State Department.

Chairman Tydings (D-Md) said the Senate foreign relations subcommittee investigating the charges will want McCarthy's files to compare with information the group intends to get from government agencies.

Tydings told McCarthy to keep his files intact. He said if they are not produced voluntarily at the proper time the subcommittee may subpoena them.

Tydings gave McCarthy his notice about the files when the second day of hearings began.

Minutes later, the committee fell into the same sort of wrangling that characterized its opening day.

Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) demanded McCarthy produce for immediate inspection all the information he has about "Case 14." McCarthy has been referring to some individuals in this manner, not using their names. He says "Case 14" is a disloyal person who was kept on State Department rolls through intervention of a high official.

McCarthy said McMahon was trying to get him to disclose the information on which he based his charges.

"You are not fooling me," McCarthy declared.

He added that the subcommittee wants the names of his State Department informants so the Department can fire them—"so their heads will fall," McCarthy then added.

"I am very much surprised that this committee has become the tool of the State Department," McMahon said.

McMahon said: "I am profoundly shocked by the irresponsible speech by the Senator from Wisconsin."

McMahon said McCarthy's "imputation" that he (McMahon) was a tool of the State Department "is something that I repudiate and denounce." He added:

"When you start making that kind of a charge about me, you had better reflect on it more than once."

"Everything I have said has been reflected upon," McCarthy shot back.

"I doubt it," McMahon retorted.

About the only names McCarthy mentioned yesterday were those of Miss Dorothy Kenyon, a New York lawyer who formerly was a U.S. representative on a United Nations commission, and Dr. Philip C. Jessup, the State Department's ambassador at large.

Here We Go Again!

Dayton, Mexico See 'Saucer', But Probably Was Just Venus

DAYTON, March 9.—(UP)—Trained astronomical observers said today that a "flying saucer" sighted here and in Mexico yesterday probably was only the planet Venus.

The mysterious "object" appeared high in the sky over Dayton Municipal Airport yesterday about the same time observers in four Mexican cities reported "flying saucers" overhead.

Lt. Col. Dale Shafer of the Ohio Air National Guard took his F-51 up to 38,000 feet to look for the object over Dayton, then said he felt "damn foolish about the whole thing." The object did not move at all and apparently was a star or some kind of celestial body, he said.

But other observers didn't agree. George Barnes, control tower official at Dayton Municipal Airport, saw what appeared to be a "silver ball" through his binoculars. It moved from southeast to southwest and was "bullet shaped with vapor trailing behind it," he said.

Other pilots, including jet pilots from Wright-Patterson air base, also went up but had nothing to report.

The Mexican "saucers" were spotted over the cities of Guadalajara, Ciudad Juarez, Mazatlan and Durango. Officials at the Mexican naval station at Mazatlan watched what they said was a flying saucer "almost stationary" over the coastal city.

No one except the newspaper Ltimas Noticias in Mexico City was able to offer a good description of the phenomena. It's Durango correspondent said, "the

Oleo Tax Ripper On Truman Desk

Approved Bill Will End Taxes July 1

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(INS)—A Congress-approved oleomargarine tax ripper rested snugly today at the White House—protected from bitter attacks from the butter industry.

The Senate passed the bill, which would repeal all federal oleo taxes, yesterday by a vote of 59-20, while the House approved it, 262-106, a day earlier.

If President Truman signs the measure—and that is practically assured—it will ban all federal taxes beginning July 1. And that will mark the end of a bitter wrangle dating back almost 64 years between butter interests and oleo people—maybe.

Although it appears on the surface that butter interests and oleo pushers went at it over the years with hammer and tongs, it might be pointed out that some big producers of cheese and other dairy products also make oleo.

And while the oleo tax repeal has weathered the storm—a measure to boost the borrowing power of the Commodity Credit Corp. to run the price support program is floating into more troubled waters each day.

A measure to boost CCC borrowing capacity from four and three-quarters billions to six and three-quarters billions of dollars is now ready to test its strength before the full House of Representatives.

The bill passed some shoal-riden waters yesterday when the House banking committee approved it by unanimous vote. But there's plenty of trouble ahead before it clears the Senate.

Conviction Is Urged As Mercy Trial Closes

Jury Hears Final
Arguments, May Have
Decision Tonight

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 9.—(AP)—A jury trying Dr. Hermann N. Sander for murder today heard a prosecutor demand his conviction for "taking the law into his own hands" in the death of a cancer ridden patient while the defense counsel declared the woman died of her illness.

Closing arguments brought the issue of euthanasia into the forefront of the trial with Chief Defense Counsel Louis E. Wyman insisting "that is not the defense in this case" even though the prosecution raised the question.

Dr. Sander is on trial for first degree murder on charges he killed an incurable cancer patient "with malice aforethought" by injecting 40 cubic centimeters of air into her veins.

The patient was Mrs. Abbie A. Borroto, 59, Manchester housewife and a close personal friend of the defendant.

Prosecutor William L. Phinney, in his 55-minute summation, again failed to ask the death penalty for Dr. Sander but he did ask for a verdict of first degree murder.

Defense Chief Wyman had claimed that the state failed to prove that Mrs. Borroto was not dead when Dr. Sander injected air into her arm in an "irrational act."

While the prosecution did not demand the death penalty, it is still within the province of the jury to recommend death by hanging if it returns a conviction for first degree murder. Without such a recommendation life imprisonment is the maximum possible penalty.

Wyman told the jurors they would be asked to decide among four possible verdicts—but he failed to mention manslaughter, indicating Judge Harold E. Westcott may rule out the possibility of such a verdict.

The judge's charge to the jury was to be made after the noon-time recess which followed the conclusion of Phinney's summation. Then the jury will retire to reach a verdict.

Wyman had completed his argument in an hour and a quarter.

"After you have completed your deliberations you will return here and you will orally state your findings on first degree murder with capital punishment; first degree murder; second degree murder; or not guilty," Wyman said in his summation.

He prefaced this statement with the remark that "the court will tell you there are four possible verdicts."

After telling the jury he did not believe the state would ask for capital punishment, Wyman continued:

"The other two degrees of murder involve, first, premeditation with malice; second, a malicious killing without premeditation. So we submit to you in this case that there is no premeditation, that there is no malice which involves a bad heart, a wicked motive."

March 10 Is Deadline For Property Taxes

LISBON, March 9.—Attention of property owners was called today by County Treasurer Vincent C. Judge that Friday, March 10, is the final day for the payment of first half taxes on 1949 real estate.

He estimates that more than one-half of the total tax charge of $2,274,072.60 for the year 1949, will be paid at the present collection. The total valuation of all property in the county is $99,707,480, with the above figure representing the total of all taxes, assessments and delinquencies, the treasurer said.

The abstract of the tax duplicate lists regular taxes and assessments in the amount of $2,057,148.02; school levies, $1,134,675.79, and delinquencies amounting to $216,924.58 for the 1949 tax year.

Dayton Forced To Cut Employees

Tax Decision Puts City In Red Again

DAYTON, March 9 — (AP)—The City of Dayton will lay off at least 400 city employees because of loss of municipal income tax revenue, it was decided last night.

The city commission ordered 300 employees laid off within the next two weeks and decreed a 10 per cent cut in operating expenses by all departments.

The operations slash will mean an additional 100 workers will be laid off, City Manager Russell E. McClure said.

The Ohio Supreme Court ruled yesterday that the Dayton income tax is invalid because it was not approved by voters, as provided in the city charter.

The 300 to be laid off in the next fortnight include 60 policemen, 46 firemen, and 110 garbage and refuse workers. They were added when the tax went into effect on April 1, 1949.

It was not known whether the cuts ordered last night will enable the city to operate within a new reduced budget. The city charter provides the city must live within its income, and more cuts may be necessary, McClure said.

Mayor Louis Lohrey said the Ohio court's decision will not be appealed to the U. S. Supreme court.

The city's legal department will decide whether the city would ask the voters to approve an income tax or a substitute revenue-raising plan, the mayor added. There was no discussion on a referendum vote last night.

The question of whether city income taxes collected so far will have to be refunded also is a legal one, said City Finance Director Earl Hagerman.

Dayton had planned to spend about $14,000,000 this year, including $7,500,000 for operating expenses. Should expenditures continue at the present rate, with

War Dead Benefits Total Near 4 Billion

WASHINGTON, March 9 — (AP)—The 430,000 World War II dead left their beneficiaries $3,872,534,648 in National Service Life Insurance through last Nov. 30.

The Veterans Administration said today that of the total, 81.3 per cent was paid by congressional appropriations for deaths "traceable to the extra hazard of military or naval service," the remainder from insurance premium funds.

In addition to the more than $3,800,000,000 paid on life insurance policies, the federal government has paid $93,350,000 to dependents of servicemen killed by the enemy in the early days of the war. Such payments were provided where servicemen had little or no government insurance and had no chance to apply for it after hostilities began.

"The Congress assumed liability for deaths due to the extra hazard of service, on the basis that life insurance generally does not include coverage at regular premium rates during service in the armed forces," VA said.

"This extra cost was deemed to be a cost of war which should be assessed against all taxpayers, rather than against NSLI policy holders alone in the form of higher premiums."

Ohio Operators Drop Suits Against Lewis

COLUMBUS, March 9 — (AP)—Suits seeking $9,000,000 damages from John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers Union were dismissed yesterday.

They had been filed in Franklin county (Columbus) and Guernsey county (Cambridge) common pleas courts by mine operators. The operators claimed the coal strike limited production of coal, in violation of Ohio's Valentine Act.

Common Pleas Judge Joseph M. Clifford approved dismissal of the Franklin county cases. He said it was part of the agreement for settlement of the coal strike. The Guernsey county dismissals were to be journalized today.

East Ohio Gas Co. Cuts Industrial Use

CLEVELAND, March 9 — (AP)—An almost complete shut-off of industrial gas to five counties was ordered by the East Ohio Gas Co. today as a new cold wave swept into the state.

Counties effected were Cuyahoga, Stark, Summit, Mahoning and Tuscarawas.

Supplies to industrial plants were cut to 50 per cent last night and then reduced this morning to bare amounts needed to prevent damage to equipment.

The gas company order followed weather forecasts of northern Ohio temperatures ranging down to 10 today. The high in the area was expected to be about 16.

party; Friday evening, St. Patrick's Day dance; Saturday, Old Timers' Day; Sunday, initiation at 2 p. m. and a dinner to follow.

Officers of the order who organized Clipper Aerie have been invited to attend, especially for the Sunday initiation.

Members of the Columbiana Booster Club at their March meeting in the High School building Tuesday evening, made plans to go to Kent this evening for the district basketball tournament. At 8:15, the Columbiana Clippers will play the winner of the game between Chardon and Fairport Harbor.

Since many of the school students want to go, the Boosters request that persons who are going to drive and have room for others, pick up the students at the High School building not later than 5:30 p. m.

Columbiana Girl Scouts will celebrate the 38th anniversary of girl scouting in America with a birthday banquet in the High School auditorium at 6:30 p. m. next Monday.

The banquet will be for girls of Intermediate Troop 1 and Brownie Troops 2 and 3 and their mothers. Girl scouting had its beginning in the U. S. at a meeting of girls from a private school in Savannah, Ga., March 12, 1912.

"Honor Bright" is the title of the play chosen by the senior class of Columbiana High School for presentation in the High School auditorium Friday evening, April 14. Tryouts have been held for the characters.

At the union Lenten service in Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church at 8 p. m. today, Rev. Waldo J. Bartels of Grace Church will preach instead of Rev. Arthur Brown, Jr. of the Church of the Nazarene, who is in Cleveland Clinic Hospital for observation.

The subject remains the same, "The Voice of Africa." Rev. Pius Gible of the Church of the Brethren will be the liturgist.

Leetonia

Monthly meeting of the Patron Teachers Association was held at the High School building Monday evening, with the president, Mrs. Victor Hedl, in charge.

During the business meeting, the final payment was made on the new band uniforms, the cost of which will exceed $3,000 with the new plastic bags purchased to cover each uniform. Shoes and glasses have been purchased by the P. T. A. for underprivileged children during the past month.

During the social hour, square dancing was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Edgerton. The largest attendance of the year was at this meeting.

Daniel Crawford, deputy state registrar for Leetonia, will have headquarters for the sale of 1950 auto tags at Kleber store, corner of Main and Walnut streets.

A representative from the county auditor's office will be at the city building in Leetonia all day Friday for the purpose of assisting people of this community in filling out their personal property tax forms.

The police department is asking motorists not to park on the "left" side of the streets as prohibited by law. Drivers not adhering to this request will be subject to arrest and fine.

Jack Beilhart, Jr. of Columbiana, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Beilhart, Sr., had an appendicitis operation at the Salem City Hospital Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Spat-holt, Mrs. Anna Floding and daughter, Mrs. Carrie Heck, have returned to their homes after a six-week visit with Mr. and Mrs. Karl Salin of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Council Meets In Columbiana

Quarters Inspected For New Fire Engine

COLUMBIANA, March 9—Members of council, at the conclusion of their meeting Tuesday evening, inspected the fire department quarters in the municipal building preparatory to delivery of the new No. 3 pumper from Columbus.

Delivery of the new fire engine has been delayed by some misunderstanding at one of the factories supplying parts, but it is expected here any day. Council has reached no definite conclusion regarding a proposed addition to the east end of the municipal building to afford more room for the fire apparatus.

A provision lost sight of in a new ordinance passed last year setting up parking restrictions will be enforced. The ordinance forbade parking on the north side of Union st from Vine st to the first alley west of Main st, a section of street traversed by the Youngstown and Salem busses. Street Commissioner Craig Quigley was instructed to place signs.

A suggestion of Commissioner Quigley for the purchase of a tractor with a power broom for street sweeping and provision for other appliances was taken under consideration. The machine would cost about $1,300.

Clipper Aerie of Eagles requested co-operation of council in placing four welcome signs at the edge of town, two each on Routes 14 and 164. As the signs will be just outside the corporate limits, council could only suggest that they be placed so as not to obscure the view of drivers.

No agreement has been reached in the drainage problem at the north end of Court st. Property owners want E. Salem st. closed, but council is against it.

Councilman Charles Fisher attended a meeting of the county board of health and reported that the health authorities want to be informed of unsanitary conditions or nuisances so that they may take action to abate them. A suggestion by Councilman Walter Crawford that provision be made for inspection of electrical installations in new building construction was taken under consideration.

Homeworth

John Snider of Covington was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stoffer. He is visiting in the community in the interest of Manchester College in Indiana.

D. L. Armstrong, Mrs. Rena Thomas and Mrs. E. E. Grimes visited Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Schopfer of Salem Sunday evening.

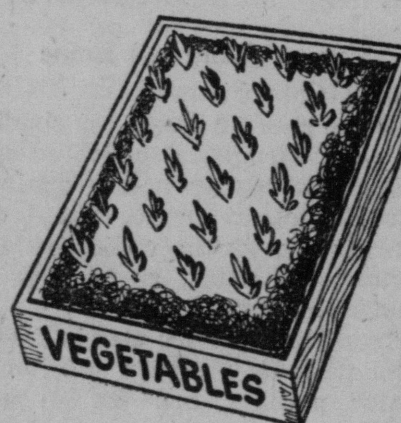

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stroup, who died a day after birth, was buried in the Alliance City Cemetery Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stump and granddaughters, Ruth Ann and Mary Lou, spent the weekend with their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Leggett, in New Philadelphia. They called on Mrs. Irene Hahn, mother of Mrs. Stump, who will undergo surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Freshley entertained the Saturday Night Club at their home. Five hundred was played, with awards for high score going to Mrs. Inez Baker and John Barnett.

Lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Vesse Galbreath will entertain this month.

Civilian Control

THE STRUGGLE in Congress to keep the military tail from wagging the civilian dog continues. The newest skirmish is over identical bills in both houses to add military members to the civilian board in control of atomic energy.

A few days ago the house armed services committee on unification and strategy in the armed forces blasted the Department of Defense for what it called blows "against the effectiveness of representative government and civilian control of the nation's defense through Congress."

The committee said: "Civilian control of the nation's armed forces is integrally a part of the nation's democratic process and tradition; it is strongly supported by the committee. But in supporting civilian control of the armed forces the committee does not mean (1) preventing free testimony before congressional committees by members of the armed forces, (2) the relegation of the United States Congress to a bystander role in issues pertaining to the national defense."

There also is being raised a pointed question of the kind of grand strategy likely to be concocted by military minds. There is a lively fear that this might turn out to be a strategy of sheer frightfulness which would betray the civilian conscience if it were put into effect. The question is whether the United States can carry out the responsibilities of a major military power without turning into a militarist state, in the pattern of Germany and Japan before their downfall.

The problem of the right balance between militarism and civilian control of militarism has been part of the American heritage. It was dealt with by George Washington and every succeeding president. It is still here. In Congress and outside of Congress it is being dealt with in full awareness of the high stakes involved. The United States could become the victim of its own security, if it fell into the error of thinking that militarism and security were one and the same thing.

Toledo Tax Is Secondary

THE OHIO Supreme Court ruling that Toledo's one percent city income tax is legal—and that any city income tax properly put into effect is legal in Ohio—clears the way for some further pioneering in municipal money-handling.

In Toledo, the income tax as a source of revenue is secondary to the method of using the revenue. It seems unlikely that Toledo residents would have consented to a city income tax unless revenue had been protected by one of the most drastic ordinances ever adopted.

Toledo government, under ordinance which established a city income tax (later approved by a referendum) operates on a fixed-fund basis. Nothing is left to the tender mercies of tax-spenders. Revenue is allocated by ordinance to every municipal need until all needs have been satisfied. Surplus then is diverted to retirement of bonded debt. In the last four years—the ordinance went into effect March 1, 1946—Toledo has been transformed from a near-bankrupt, debt-ridden city to a cash-and-carry corporation with a diminishing real estate levy, a dwindling debt and ample funds for operating expenses. It now makes capital improvements out of money in fund, instead of floating bond issues to be retired, with interest, from future tax revenues. When the ordinance expires at the end of this year, its renewal will be brought about in all probability by voters' conviction that they have discovered at last how to operate a municipality on a financially logical basis. They won't be voting on a municipal income tax, which by itself would be no more popular than such a tax would be anywhere else. They will be voting on a method of municipal financing which has restored confidence in government by getting it out of the financial doldrums.

The key to whatever success Toledo has had with its experiment is the fact it has found a better way to handle public money. The source of the money is beside the point.

Two Senators Apiece

ALASKA and Hawaii eventually will be voting members of the United States of America. They already have the responsibilities of statehood. Their people pay taxes and assist in the national defense. Their areas are not contiguous territory, to be sure, but any attack would be construed as an attack on the United States. The question of their right to statehood already has been answered favorably by events and circumstances.

Yet, it's unlikely that either Alaska or Hawaii will be admitted to statehood. Both have been approved by the house of representatives, but the senate probably will kick around the matter until it gets lost. There is an obvious reason for the probability. The senate is the custodian of high-level political strategy, and Hawaii and Alaska are in politics.

As states, each would be entitled to two senators. Four new senators would upset the political balance of the senate's present membership of 96. The prospect is obvious, particularly to senators from heavily-populated states. They object to the possibility that Alaska's handful of population might be entitled to two votes in the upper house by virtue of each state's right to two senators, regardless of population. In view of the fact that Alaskans and Hawaiians can't vote anyway, they can expect a long wait before the U. S. Senate gives them a chance.

Molly Goldberg

NEW YORK WOMEN USUALLY can develop a fondness for anything in the world—except another woman.

One of the few women of our times genuinely popular with her own sex is Mrs. Gertrude Berg. Ladies who would give Lana Turner a sub-zero glare just melt and swoon in Gertrude's lap when they see her.

"Oooooooh, wonderful!" they gush, and Gertrude gives them a patient Mona Lisa smile and an autograph, and the ladies feel they have had a victory that day. They even go home and give their husbands a kind word.

The reason they call her Molly is that for nearly 21 years Mrs. Berg has authored and played the leading role in the radio serial, "The Goldbergs," whose heroine is Molly, a plump Bronx wife.

For those two decades she has represented the hausfrau triumphant in an era when career women have been winning most of the plaudits. And she knows that is the reason for her popularity.

"IF I WERE glamorous, the women wouldn't like me at all," signed Mrs. Berg contentedly over the ruins of a luncheon chunk of lemon chiffon pie.

The pie was only a symbol of Mrs. Berg's philosophy of taking life as it is.

"I always diet tomorrow," she said. She doesn't mind being regarded by the public as a fine wife, and she doesn't mind looking like a wife who has gone the way of all flesh that enjoys good food.

But big, placid and comfortable as she appears, she is one of the most talented, astute and determined career women of her generation. But she has made a success of both her home and her career without getting excited about it. And Gertrude has managed to stay just as warm and friendly in her private life as Molly has in public.

Since 1929 Mrs. Berg has written about eight million words—80 good-sized books—and acted in some 5,000 radio and television programs.

She used to write and star in six 15-minute programs a week. Today, at 50, she still turns out two half-hour programs a week, one radio, one video. She gets up at six in the morning, and by noon of the same day she has written an entire show at a single sitting. She writes in longhand with a pencil.

"I can't keep up with my thoughts on a typewriter," she smiled.

TELEVISION HAS disturbed

her way of life because now wherever she goes people recognize her.

"I can't go to Coney Island anymore," she complained mildly. "And I always liked to do that."

When she was on radio alone, she used to go about the East side talking to housewives and pushcart peddlers to get the shrewd homey observations that stamp her style. Her face is too well known now for her to do that.

"But I never have to grope for material," she said. "You live with people, and that's where stories come from—people. They don't have to come from someone who speaks a dialect."

Mrs. Berg has never lost her serenity or become neurotic, as many successful writers and actors do.

"I sleep very well," she laughed, "because I like my work."

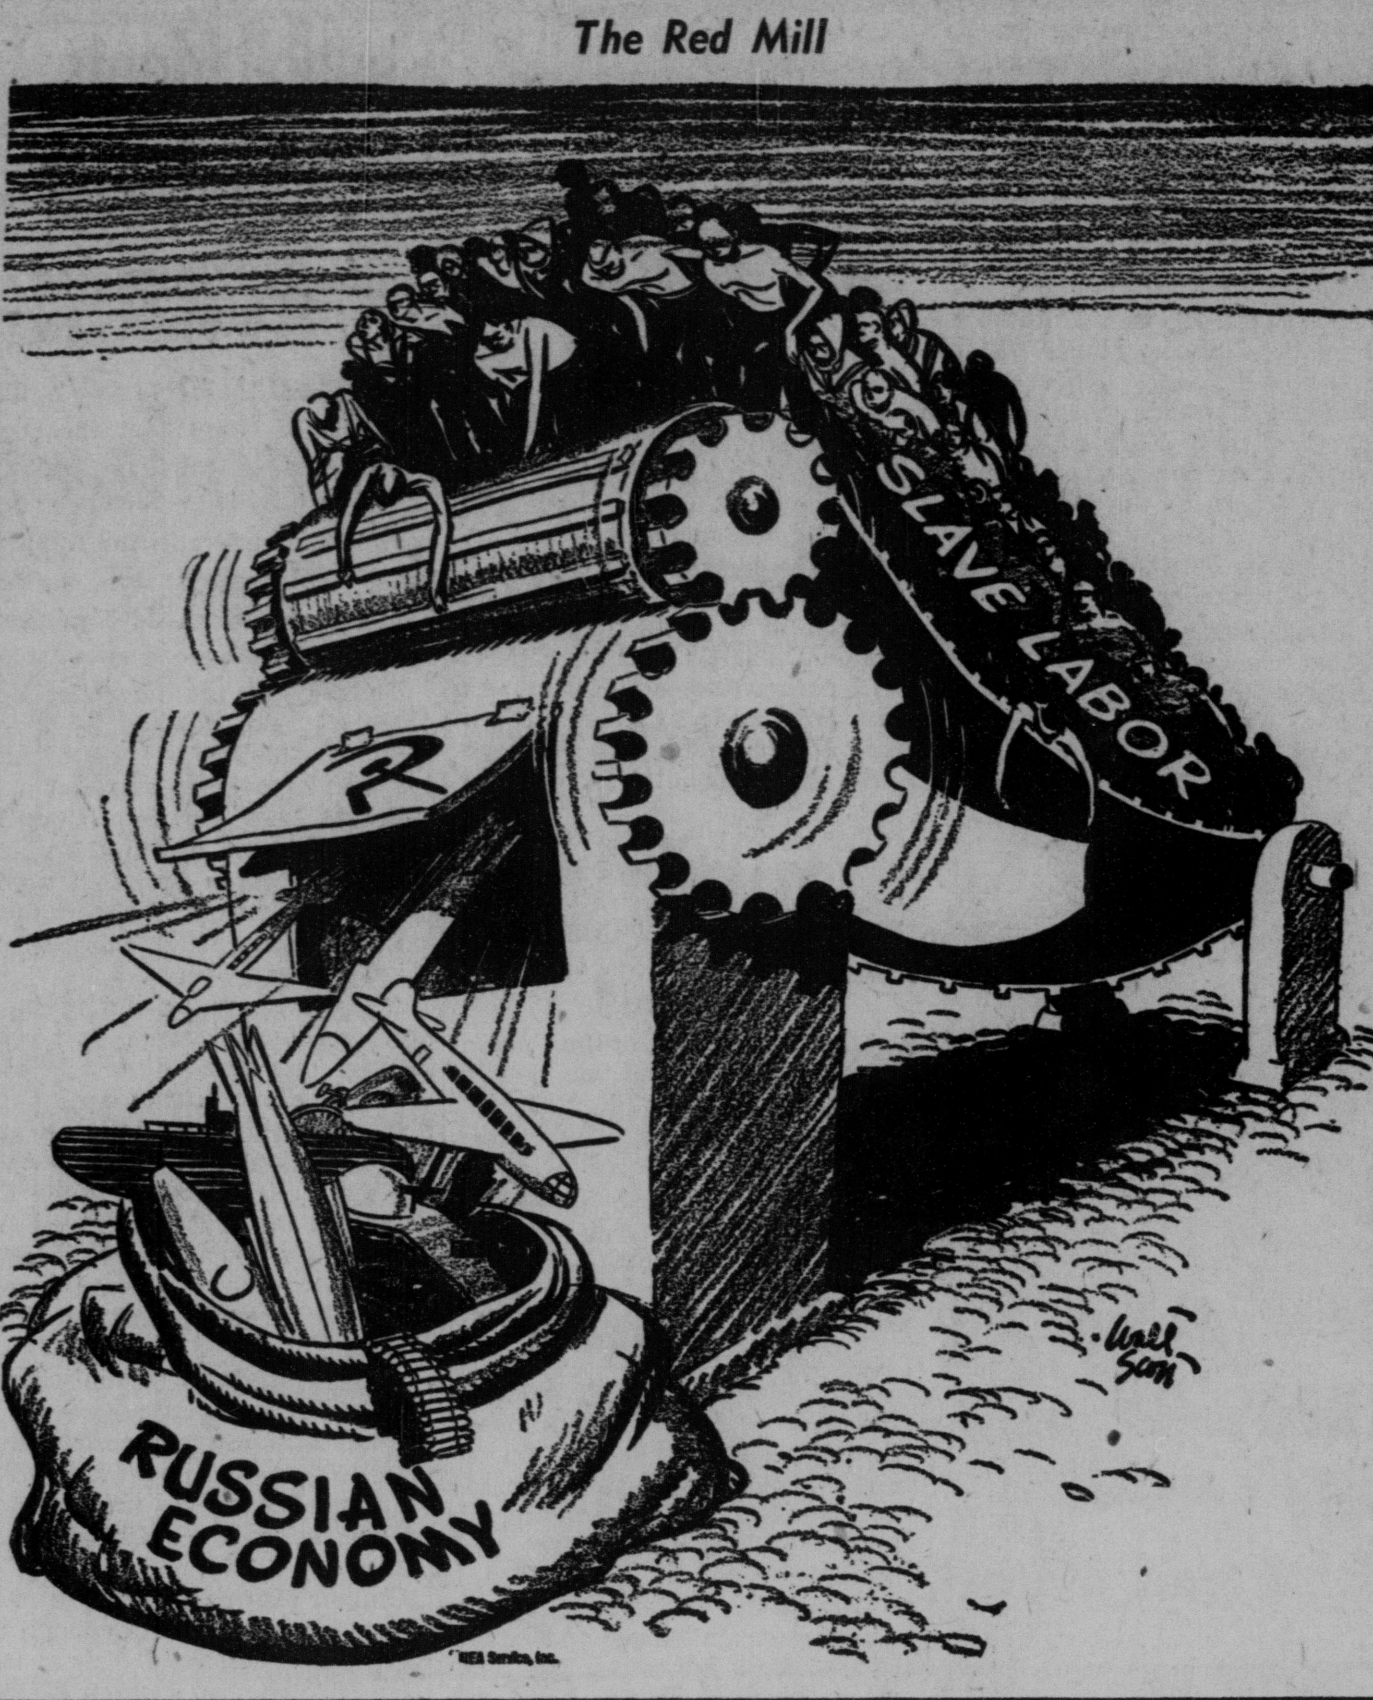

And she said she also liked these things:

"Talking to people, walking in the rain, good books, eating good food, having dinner at my daughter-in-law's, and redecorating my own house — and everybody else's."

When I asked her what she didn't like, she said:

"I don't like big parties at anybody's home but my own. I don't like dust in my house, and—well, I don't know what else in life I don't like unless it's that there are only 24 hours in a day."

John L. Lewis And His Dictatorship

By DAVID LAWRENCE

A SURVEY of the wreckage strewn by John L. Lewis and the Mine Workers' Union shows more serious damage to the fabric of law and order than to the nation's economy.

What was lost in dollars and cents by the mine owners and by the miners and the disinterested public is not as great as the injury done to the whole system of law enforcement as well as to the field of labor-management regulation by law.

For from now on all union officers have a precedent encouraging them to defy court injunctions and court orders merely by claiming that the individual members act "spontaneously" and not by concerted decisions.

John Lewis readily gave up the clause in the contract declaring that his members would mine coal only when "able and willing." This clause became superfluous the moment Judge Keech's decision was rendered. Wildcat strikes and so-called "unauthorized" work stoppages now can be undertaken apparently without fear of the orders of a court which hitherto would have been expected to secure compliance with its orders to desist from violation of contract law or the provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act.

WHAT IS WORSE is the way the administration here, unchecked thus far by Congress, has suppressed evidence showing how the court's injunction was flouted by a conspiracy inside the miners' union. Thousands of words of affidavits told the Department of Justice attorneys plainly how the mine unions held local meetings throughout the coal fields several days in advance of the expected issuance of a court injunction and how, by word-of-mouth arrangements, the plan was engineered to disregard the telegrams sent by their own officers at the behest of the court.

Now John L. Lewis boasts in the newsreels shown in the moving picture theaters throughout the nation this week that his union "discredited the Taft-Hartley abomination"—by which he means, of course, the injunction provisions that constitute its teeth. He is right—the union has discredited not only the law but the whole system of enforcement of the orders of the federal courts of America.

The state courts have also been damaged in prestige. Although many suits have been filed alleging a violation of laws governing restraint of trade by means of the three-day week and other controls over production, the operators, as a condition toward getting the Lewis signature on the contract, were compelled to agree to drop all such suits and, in effect, withhold from the state authorities any evidence to prove law violations. This is economic duress used to break down the proper functioning of state courts.

MOST IMPORTANT is the new influence which Lewis gains over the whole labor movement. Though not in the AFL or CIO, he has begun to dominate them both. He offers $1,000,000 to Reuther's auto workers, sends back the $500,000 which Murray's steel workers sent him and revives his idea of a mutual aid pact for "defense" whereby the hundreds of millions of dollars amassed from workers' dues shall be used to buy legislation and influence the election of those who will do the bidding of union groups. Lewis frankly admits, in a recently published biography, that he paid $500,000 to the Roosevelt administration to buy the passage of the Wagner labor relations law.

Lewis also had led the way to something else—far more significant. He is the first labor leader to achieve for his union a two-to-one control of the trustees of a big pension fund involving shortly about $300,000,000 of money. Other union leaders will demand the same thing now.

LEWIS BIDS FAIR by his challenges to make a last supreme effort to bring about a dictatorship by means of a working alliance among the big unions. The other leaders may be jealous of him, but he has demonstrated to the rank and file that he is bigger than Presidents and Congresses—they become putty in his hands.

The abuse of the public interest in the coal controversy brings nearer the day when an exhausted and desperate public will demand some form of government control of both unions and industry. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

Vets' Education

By PETER EDSON

Rigid Examination of Schools Needed

WASHINGTON DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA'S experience with veterans' trade schools may give a clue to what has gone wrong nationally with the GI below-college level education.

Last July the D. C. Commissioners — particularly Commissioner Guy Mason—became concerned over complaints against the mushrooming GI trade schools in Washington. Over 300 academic, arts and vocational schools had been approved by the Board of Education for GI training. The Board was required to certify only that the schools had the faculty and equipment to train veterans. It had no responsibility over the quality of the training.

Nearly 10 per cent of the District vets were enrolled in trade schools, and 15 per cent more were taking college-level courses. The schools were doing a $10,000,000 to $12,000,000 a year business.

There was no complaint against the old-time colleges nor against the established correspondence, trade and vocational schools which had been in business 20 years and more. All the complaints were against the newer schools.

It was claimed that they were giving faulty instruction in some cases and that they were training vets for jobs that simply didn't exist.

SO A 20-MAN COMMITTEE

was named to investigate. Leon G. Chatelain, Jr., an architect, was named chairman. Gino Simi of the District of Columbia apprenticeship office was made secretary. The committee was made up of businessmen, labor representatives and public figures. There were no spokesmen for the trade schools. But all the veterans' organizations were represented to look out for GI rights.

Almost immediately the committee bogged down in disputes on what it should do. There was at first a charge that the schools had used fraudulent advertising to attract students. Yet none of the advertising was investigated.

Attendance figures were cited to show that far more watch repairmen, tailors, jewelers, photographers and even bricklayers were being graduated from the schools than could be employed locally. Job placements from some schools were said to be one in 20.

These schools countered with the claim that they were training men for the national labor market, not just for local jobs. And the fact was cited that every graduate of every school or college has to go out and sell himself before he can get a job.

One feeling developed in the committee that all these new schools represented new business enterprises in the community and that they should be encouraged. Also, there was some feeling that the schools were being fought by labor unions that wanted to restrict the number of men trained in any trade to their own apprentices.

After six months of wrangling over points like these, a number of the members felt that the committee wasn't getting any place and ought to disband. The secretary resigned. The chairman appointed himself a committee of one to write a report.

THE MORAL OF this story, as it can be applied nationally in all the states, is that unless there is good local inspection of vets' schools, there are bound to be complaints of abuses and waste of both the taxpayers' money and GI entitlement to educational benefits.

There is a great congressional fear of federal control over education. This was apparently what motivated Congress in taking the inspection and certification of schools for GI training out of the hands of the Veterans' Administration. Everything was left up to local authorities—state boards of education and their designated agencies.

For the training and education of disabled veterans, the VA was given this authority. That program has been run off without much complaint. But the fear of giving the VA too much control over local education may have backfired in training vets not disabled.

One trouble is that there are no established standards for training barbers, bricklayers or beauticians. Schools approved in some states would never have been approved in others. Barbering courses, for instance, varied from 11 to 104 weeks.

Too many new schools were approved too fast. Thus 5600, or two out of three trade schools approved for vets, were established after the GI bill was passed in 1944. To correct these situations, Veterans' Administration, Budget Bureau and the President have recommended that the federal government be authorized to set minimum standards under which these schools can be operated.

Rabbit Serum Aids Whooping Cough

ABOUT one-quarter of the infants under six months old who contract whooping cough die. In old people too the disease is severe and causes many deaths. Among those who recover there may be serious after effects. Although whooping cough in later childhood and in grown-ups is not so dangerous, it is still an uncomfortable, disagreeable disease, and one which can produce permanent damage to the lungs, heart or other organs.

Prevention is desirable. A vaccine seems to be pretty successful in preventing whooping cough in older children or at least in making the disease milder. Unfortunately, however, the vaccine cannot be used to any great extent in infants and, therefore, special care should be taken to protect infants from exposure to whooping cough.

Several groups of research workers have helped to develop a satisfactory immune serum for the treatment of whooping cough. Thanks to them a good serum is now available. This is called "hyperimmune serum;" its value has been shown repeatedly by the dramatic effect which it has had on the death rate, especially in infants during the first six months of their lives. Some hyperimmune serum has been prepared from rabbits.

In one group of 20 infants who were exposed to whooping cough in the family, 13 were completely protected by being given this rabbit antiwhooping cough serum. Five cases were mild and only two were as severe as would be normally expected. A hyperimmune serum has been obtained from human beings. This type of serum has the advantage of being not so likely to produce a reaction or to make the person who gets it unduly sensitive.

Still more recently encouraging treatment results have been reported from the use of one of the new antibiotics — chloramphenicol or chloromycetin. If this holds up a new weapon for infants and old people will be available.

The disease often produces a long period of confinement and discomfort, isolation and missing of school so that exposure should be avoided just as much as possible. Besides there is always the risk that some will suffer permanent damage in spite of treatment. Whooping cough is not a disease to just laugh off with the feeling that all children will get it sooner or later.

Lamb, Egg Prices Rise

Lettuce Up, But Crop Outlook Good

(By The Associated Press)
Lamb, top grade eggs and frying and broiling chickens were a shade higher priced in scattered retail markets this week.

A few stores marked pork down a trifle. And several produce items were slightly cheaper than a week ago, including snap beans, broccoli, new cabbage, celery, cucumbers, onions and squash.

Best quality lettuce edged upward. Agriculture Department market analysts said rains and hot weather in California's Imperial valley had resulted in too-early maturing of part of the region's late crop, and at Phoenix, Ariz., area growers had not yet started to ship lettuce in volume.

The Department's Production and Marketing Administration headlined lettuce as among its most-plentiful foods for this week, however.

Georgia shipped its first new cabbage of the season to distant city markets this week. Asparagus from California was picking up in volume.

In Washington, Senate investigators resumed their probe of last fall's sharp coffee price rise.

June 30 Final Date To File Ohio Bonus

With the deadline of June 30 for filing Ohio bonus applications approaching, Director L. G. Scrimger urged all eligible Ohio World War II veterans and all eligible next of kin of deceased veterans who have not filed for the bonus, to do so immediately.

The casualty list of the Army and Navy reveal many names of deceased veterans whose next of kin have not filed an application. The Constitution designates the eligible next of kin as, surviving husband or wife, children or child, or parents or parent, in the order named. No other kin are eligible.

The director said "$229,342,500.69 has been paid to 725,206 living veterans and 30,345 next of kin of 21,482 deceased veterans through the month of February, 1950." The average amount paid to living veterans is $305.00 an dthe average paid per claim to next of kin of deceased veterans is $379.

In Columbiana (C) and Mahoning (M) counties the total number of living claims is: 8,605 (C) and 25,727 (M); total amount living claims: $2,514,919.74 (C) and $7,900,851.03 (M); average per living claim: $292.26 (C) and $307.10 (M); total number of next kin claims: 263 (C) and 775 (M); total amount of next of kin claims: $101,616.57 (C) and $294,975.61 (M); total amount of all claims: $2,616,536.31 (C) and $8,195,826.64 (M).

COURT GETS COSTS

LISBON, March 9 — A warrant for criminal costs was received by Clerk of Courts John W. Coleman from the auditor of state in the sum of $1,354.66. The costs just approved for payment by the state cover criminal cases in Columbiana county during the last eight months of 1948.

Mrs. Helen Brumbaugh Named New President Of Quota Club

MRS. HELEN BRUMBAUGH is the new president of the Quota Club. She is secretary to T. E. Miller, manager of the Ohio Edison Company here.

Mrs. Brumbaugh succeeds Miss Hazel Linn, executive secretary of Salem Chapter, Red Cross, who has held the post for two years.

Other officers are: First vice president, Miss Eleanor McMurray; second vice president, Miss Lillian Schroeder; secretary, Miss Augusta Ibele; treasurer, Miss Anne Moore; directors, Miss Linn and Miss Rose McLaughlin.

These officers were named at a dinner meeting Tuesday evening in the Memorial building. They will be installed April 18.

W. E. Palmer, ceramic engineer for the Salem China Company, guest speaker, gave an interesting talk on "Ceramics." He illustrated it with slides on materials used and also pictured some of his antique and contemporary ceramics.

Mr. Palmer, who has been with the local company for three years, spent 16 years in East Liverpool in similar work. He was presented by Mrs. Thomas E. Crothers, program chairman.

Miss McLaughlin, Miss Juanita Swartz and Mrs. Helen Kenneigh made up the committee on arrangements for the Tuesday evening session.

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Kent U. Professor Talks To Travelers

G. Harry Wright, professor at Kent State University, gave an entertaining talk at a meeting of the Travelers Club Tuesday afternoon in the public library assembly room.

Mr. Wright reviewed the activities of the Show Boat, sponsored by the University, and augmented his talk with pictures. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wright.

Salem High School Girls' Ensemble sang two selections, "The Little Shepherd" and "Music." Ben Bailey was the accompanist.

Red carnations and white tapers decked the table from which tea was served. Mrs. Louella Harris and Mrs. Hiram Greiner poured.

Hostess committee was composed of Mrs. Harold Musser, chairman; Mrs. Joel Herbert Sharp, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Fred Israel, Mrs. L. P. Metzger, Mrs. John Vance, Mrs. O. A. Silver and Mrs. Frank R. Frost.

The next meeting is March 14.

Enamon Club Members Enjoy Canasta Games

The hours were enjoyed in playing canasta when members of the Enamon Club were guests of Mrs. Vincent Taus Wednesday evening in her home, Jennings ave. Mrs. Lewis Follansbee was a guest.

Games prizes were claimed by Mrs. Charles Ward and Mrs. Walter Hiltbrand. A St. Patrick's Day theme prevailed in the lunch appointments. April 12 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ward on Reilly ave.

3 Methodist Groups Convene Wednesday

Three groups of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service met Wednesday afternoon as follows:

GROUP 3

Decorations suggestive of Easter decked the table when 19 members of Group 3 enjoyed a birthday dinner at 12:30 in the church social room. A birthday cake was served and novelties marked the places.

Hostesses were Mrs. R. A. Ohl, Miss Ella Beeson, Mrs. A. C. Frethy and Mrs. Blaine McClaskey. Mrs. Howard Holloway conducted devotions. A Bible quiz and contest was in charge of Mrs. Charles Wernet.

GROUP 5

An excellent review of the book, "Out on a Limb," was given by Mrs. Howard Gillett at a meeting of Group 5 in the church. Mrs. John Schuck entertained with two piano solos, "Meditation" and "An Irish Melody."

Mrs. Paul Patterson conducted devotions. Mrs. Eric Nyberg and Mrs. William Slosser arranged the program.

A dessert luncheon at 1:30 was served to 19 members. Mrs. Ralph Whiteleather was chairman. She was assisted by Mrs. Vincent Taus and Mrs. J. O. Hagedorn. This group has planned a Saturday benefit.

GROUP 6

Sixteen members of Group 6 gathered at the home of Mrs. O. C. Hoover, Buckeye ave., for a coverdish luncheon. There was one guest.

Associate hostesses were Mrs. L. H. Baldinger, Mrs. Hugh Everett, Mrs. A. C. Yengling and Mrs. B. B. Sutter. Mrs. Willis R. Hole was devotional leader. "The Country Parson Ponders" was the subject of an article read by Mrs. Frank Hoskin, program leader.

Mrs. Whinery Hostess To Homemakers Club

Mrs. Earl Santee of Damascus was a guest when Mrs. Olive Whinery entertained 15 members of the Vernal Grove Homemakers Club Wednesday afternoon in her home, W. 14th st.

Mrs. Robert Eddy was devotional leader and select readings were given. Mrs. Gladys Peters and Mrs. Oliver Conser conducted an Irish song and radio program contest. Mrs. Arlan Fultz and Mrs. Nelson Baunach tied for honors.

Green and white tones predominated in the lunch appointments, which featured shampoos. April 19 meeting will be with Mrs. Eldon Whinery at Guilford.

Baptist Men Hear Talk By Speaker At Supper

M. R. Bowerman of Alliance was guest speaker at a supper meeting of the Baptist Men of Salem Tuesday evening in the Fellowship hall at the First Baptist Church. His subject was "How To Have Enough Money."

Group singing was led by Gail Hutchison with J. B. Bostrom at the piano.

Supper music was furnished by a brass band composed of Ralph Firestone, George Huston, James Lewis, William Schuller, Ernest Crawford, Ben Bailey, Robert Zimmerman and Philip Hunter.

A novelty skit by the Hayseeds (Nelson Conrad, Julius Bartha and Merle Miller) was well received.

The program was concluded with a movie on "Tuna Fishing." Supper was served by the deaconesses.

Nurses Group Attends District 3 Meeting

President Mrs. Adin Kauffman, Miss Rose Piper, Miss Jane Ann Sheehan, Miss Dorothy Strohecker, Miss Helen Hoffmaster, Miss Marian Wilson, Mrs. Beulah Gluckner, Mrs. Elma Gallagher and Mrs. Robert Ellyson, members of the Salem City Hospital Nurses Alumnae Association, were in Youngstown Wednesday evening to attend a meeting of District 3, Ohio Nurses Association, in the Stambaugh Nurses Home of the South Side Hospital.

Miss Margaret Sullivan, district president, was in charge. Student nurses of the Youngstown hospitals presented an informative skit on "Mental Diseases and their Treatment."

The Salem alumnae furnished refreshments. The table, beautifully appointed in a yellow and green theme, was centered with an arrangement of daffodils and daisies. Miss Piper and Miss Wilson poured.

District 3 is made up of four counties—Columbiana, Mahoning, Trumbull and Ashtabula. The April 12 meeting will be in the Trumbull Memorial Hospital at Warren.

Birthday Party Given For Yvonne Breault

Yvonne Breault was complimented with a surprise party Tuesday evening in the home of Irene Hall, Bank st. The affair celebrated her 14th birthday. Among her lovely gifts was a decorated birthday cake.

Game prizes were won by Miss Breault, Hildigarde Kropet, Marilyn Schramm, Eileen Sommers and Irene Hall. Easter favors were given when the lunch was served.

Church Group Enjoys Program, Luncheon

Mrs. Luella Harris and Mrs. A. C. Long shared in presenting the worship service at the meeting of the Presbyterian February committee Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Robert Wilson on N. Ellsworth ave.

Prior to the program, Mrs. Wilson assisted by Mrs. Lester Kille served a dessert luncheon to 15 women.

Portions from the Year Book of Prayer were read by Mrs. Harris, while Mrs. Long presented an informative paper on China, as gleaned from the writings of Pea. Buck and other sources.

Mrs. Ralph Long, Sr., key woman on missions in the February group, explained the One Great Hour of Sharing program which will help displaced persons and others in need. She presented a challenge to women to pray, and to take a firm and understanding position in the affairs of the world.

The Presbyterian church in the United States has pledged 2,000 assurances for displaced persons to be brought to this country and the quota has been nearly reached, according to Mrs. Long's report.

A hymn sing was directed by Mrs. Bruce Hack and Mrs. Kille was accompanist.

Plans were made for a tea at the meeting April 12, with Mrs. Arthur Greenamyer and Mrs. Gale Dougherty in charge. Mrs. Charles Oertel will prepare the program.

Mrs. Joseph Greenwood, so-called chairman with Mrs. Dougherty, presided at the meeting.

Chatter Club Guest Of Mrs. Halverstadt

Meeting Wednesday evening, members of the Chatter Club were guests of Mrs. Nevin Halverstadt at her home, E. State st. Game prizes were shared by Mrs. Glenn Whitehill, Mrs. Stroh Caldwell and Mrs. August DeCrow.

St. Patrick's Day appointments were favored in the lunch served. The next meeting will be at the DeCrow home, S. Madison ave.

Elks Again Will Hold Dance For Teen-agers

Teen-agers in the Salem area are invited to attend the monthly Elks dance to be held from 9 to 12 p. m. Friday in the Elks ballroom. Music will be provided by Paul Kuhn's orchestra, which has been secured through the local musician's union from their share of recording royalties.

In charge of the dance are Plummer Riddle, Robert Paxson and James Gregg.

Marriage Licenses

Gail Lea Phillips, 21, farmer, and Barbara Jean McFadden, 18, stenographer, East Liverpool. Harold William Jasna, 24, guard, Attica, N. Y., and Ruth Ann Saffell, 20, North Georgetown.

Program, Lunch Planned

The Elks auxiliary will feature entertainment and lunch at its March 21 meeting. Plans for this session were made at the auxiliary's meeting Tuesday evening in the home.

Association To Meet

The Past Noble Grand Association of Home Lodge, Daughters of Rebekah, will meet at 7:30 tonight in I. O. O. F. hall. Mrs. Ola Shriver will tell of the origin of St. Patrick's Day.

With The Patients

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Urmetz of the Egypt rd. are spending a few days in Cleveland. His sister, Miss Margaret Urmetz, is in Fairview Park Hospital there recovering from injuries sustained in an accident.

HUNTING CLUB TO MEET

A social meeting will be held when the Salem Hunting Club meets at 8 tonight at the clubhouse. Cards and motion pictures will provide the entertainment and barbecued venison will be served for lunch. All members are invited.

Missionary Play Presented To Presbyterian Committees

AT ONE of the most interesting meetings of the year Tuesday evening, members of the Presbyterian Evening committees witnessed the missionary action play, "The Color Line."

The play was the work of five association women. Dr. Lawson, a college professor in whose office the action takes place, was played by Mrs. William King.

Mrs. Lowell Goad was cast as the Chinese student, Fu Chang; Mrs. Evas Lipp and Mrs. Niles Pettay were Wanda and Barbara, college students; Mrs. Louis Weirick was also a student, Stanley, and Mrs. Paul Risbeck, secretary to the professor.

Mrs. Weirick was the director of the production which emphasized brotherhood. The worship service conducted by Mrs. Robert McKelvey also stressed the brotherhood theme. Mrs. Thomas Mercer, world service chairman, explained the One Great Hour of Sharing program which ends at 12 noon Sunday. To further aid displaced persons and combat race prejudice, the association will continue the plan.

Mrs. Lulu McCarthy was program chairman. The July committee, headed by Mrs. Lewis Hill and Mrs. Orrick Robinson, was host for the evening and served refreshments to the 40 women present. The table was decorated in tribute to the Irish, with the traditional black hat as centerpiece. Shamrocks were used in scatter-pattern.

Mrs. McCarthy and Mrs. McKelvey presided at the silver service, assisted by Mrs. Ray Reich, Mrs. George Bergman, Mrs. Rex Hundertmark, Miss Margaret Bryan and Mrs. G. W. Smith.

Mrs. Esther Eells and Mrs. Floyd P. Crawford, Miss Caroline Hole and Mrs. Clyde McFeely are June and August committee chairmen respectively. At the next meeting, April 4, the August committee will be in charge.

Elkton, Wayne Schools Closed By Illness

LISBON, March 9—Two rural schools in the county have been closed because of a virus epidemic, Acting Supt. F. R. Narragon announced today.

Both the Elkton and Wayne schools have suffered in attendance, with approximately one-third of the pupils absent because of illness with the virus infection which on Monday forced the closing of the Lisbon schools. The Elkton school closed Tuesday and the Wayne school Wednesday for the balance of the week.

Government Ends Case Against Paper

CLEVELAND, March 9—(AP)—Federal attorneys were expected to wind up presentation of the government's anti-trust suit against the Lorain (O.) Journal today.

Victor H. Kramer, chief government counsel, said he planned to call only seven more witnesses. The paper's defense is expected to take two or three days.

The paper is accused of attempting to injure the Lorain Sunday News, a weekly, and Radio Station WEOL of Lorain and Elyria. The government says the Journal refused to accept ads from business firms that advertise in the other paper and on station's broadcasts.

William E. Bennett, a Chicago executive of Sears, Roebuck & Co., testified yesterday that in 1945 the Journal at first refused to renew Sears' $20,000-a-year advertising contract.

His testimony followed closely that of numerous other witnesses presented by the government.

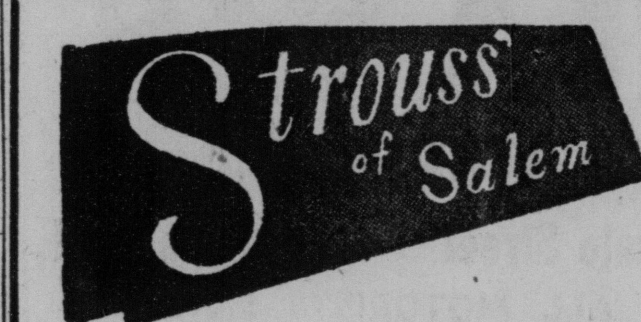

Bennett said Samuel A. Horvitz, vice president and secretary of the Lorain Journal Co., told him: "As long as Sears advertises in the Sunday News there will be no place for Sears' advertisements in the Lorain Journal."

According to the witness, Horvitz objected to protests raised against Journal advertising policies by Lee Geiger, then manager of Sears' Lorain store. Geiger had complained at a retail merchants' meeting.

Bennett testified, however, that the contract finally was renewed.

Helps You Overcome FALSE TEETH

Looseness and Worry

How to take the Work out of Housework

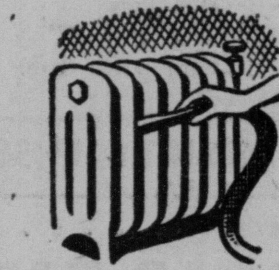

Scorch something a little? Don't worry. Dampen the spots well, and leave garment beneath ultraviolet rays of a sun lamp for 10 minutes. Works like magic on white things! Be careful with color.

(You can bleach a scorch, and take a sun bath, too, for a penny's worth of electricity!)

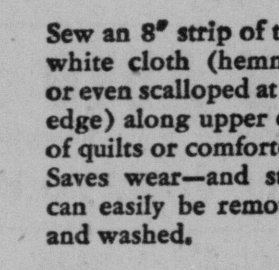

Clogged sink drains are a nuisance—expensive, too. Try prevention. Run hot water down the drain after rinsing greasy dishes and pans—and a couple of times during the week, just for safety's sake.

(For a few cents a day, you can have gallons of hot water with an electric water heater!)

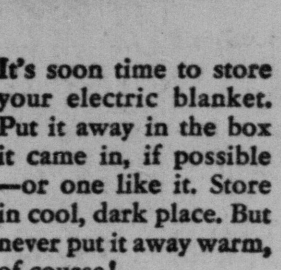

Use the upholstery attachment of your vacuum cleaner to remove dust from radiators and registers, back of your range and other hard-to-get-at places. Good for books and corners of drawers, too.

(Did you know you can clean six large rugs with one penny's worth of electricity?)

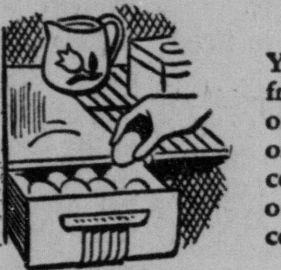

Sew an 8" strip of thin white cloth (hemmed or even scalloped at the edge) along upper end of quilts or comforters. Saves wear—and strip can easily be removed and washed.

(It costs only 1/5th of a cent for the electricity to run your sewing machine an hour!)

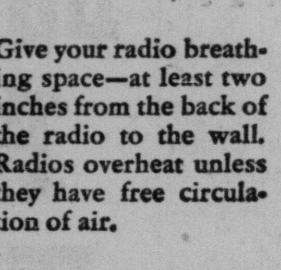

It's soon time to store your electric blanket. Put it away in the box it came in, if possible—or one like it. Store in cool, dark place. But never put it away warm, of course!

(So comfortable on cold nights—so warm and light—and costs about 1/3c an hour to use!)

Yes, eggs will keep fresher in the crisper of your refrigerator—or in an open dish or container at the bottom of the food storage compartment.

(Costs about 5c for the electricity that refrigerates your food for a week end.)

Give your radio breathing space—at least two inches from the back of the radio to the wall. Radios overheat unless they have free circulation of air.

(You can have a full evening of radio entertainment for a penny's worth of electricity!)

Clean toasters work better—and longer, too. Never place in water or shake violently. Clean out crumbs with a soft brush. Disconnect before cleaning, of course!

(One cent's worth of electricity will toast 36 slices of bread, if your family's that hungry!)

Top Brass At Lustron Fired

Receiver Nips Salary Payroll By $86,000

COLUMBUS, March 9—(AP)—The Lustron Corp., prefabricated housing plant was being operated today with only two of its top officials. The others have been fired.

Many top executives, including Carl G. Strandlund, $50,000-a-year company president, were dismissed yesterday by Clyde M. Foraker, court-appointed receiver. U. S. District Judge Mell G. Underwood directed the dismissals. He said:

"We cut those employees whose services we considered were no longer needed in the operation of the plant. The cut will not impair operations of the plant, in the court's opinion."

In addition to top executives, many supervisory employees were let go, reducing the monthly salary payroll from $156,037.97 to $70,723.99, Foraker said. Included was Jerome Nevius, former Clark county prosecutor. He was a $600-a-month legal adviser.

Top executives who were fired include:

F. M. Lowum, vice president and treasurer, $25,000; V. A. McKechnie, vice president in charge of operations, $25,000; Eugene Reybold, vice president $15,000, and Wesley D. Pearce, assistant treasurer, $10,000.

Donald W. Boylan, secretary-comptroller, and W. A. Matheson, general manager, were retained. Boylan previously was appointed to help the receiver for a 30-day period.

Letters of dismissal, signed by Foraker, said in part:

"This action is but a small part of the drastic economies which must be effected immediately if there is to be any hope whatever of survival of this industry."

Testimony at the Reconstruction Finance Corp., hearing for a receiver for Lustron and foreclosure on multimillion dollar loans claimed the company was losing $35,000 a day.

None of the 700 production employees at the plant was affected by yesterday's order.

Lustron dealers, who are fighting to keep the plant operating indefinitely, have scheduled a meeting for Columbus Friday.

Billy's Mail Pours In "Bag-size" Now

GALLUP, N. M., March 9—(AP)—Billy Shearrow, six-year-old invalid from Canton, O., is getting so much mail these days the mailman can't carry it all.

Now it comes in mail trucks. Billy is being deluged with letters and cards from folks in the Indian country. Last month, his mother, Mrs. Ruby Shearrow, asked the Albuquerque postmaster if Billy couldn't get a few letters.

A bone disease has kept Billy in a cast from the waist down for six months.

Roudebush Named To Schools Committee

COLUMBUS, March 9—(AP)—George E. Roudebush, former superintendent of schools in Columbus and Youngstown, today was named chairman of the schools committee of the Ohio Program Commission.

The committee, authorized by act of the Ohio Program Commission, will study matters "related to efficiency and economy in the organization and administration of the public schools of Ohio."

Appointment was made by State Sen. C. L. Jackson (D-Mahoning), commission chairman.

Paralyzed Veteran Realizes Home Dream

COLUMBUS, March 9—(AP)—Fred J. "Fritz" Grimley, 33, sat today in his wheel chair in the living room of his new home and saw four years of dreaming and planning only days away from completion.

Grimley, a World War II veteran, had his legs paralyzed when shot accidentally by another soldier who was cleaning an automatic pistol. The accident happened in 1944 while Grimley was a member of an ordnance company with the Eighth Air Force in England.

Grimley will be the first of three Franklin county veterans to move into a specially built home made possible under Public Law 702.

He falls into the class of paraplegic veterans who lost use of their legs through service injuries and for whom the government has provided grants up to $10,000,000 for homes that give greater freedom of movement.

Workmen today were installing an elevator so Grimley can travel easily between floors. Other features of the house include a garage door which opens and closes by radio control from an automobile, ramps instead of steps, sliding doors on closets and a large escape door at the rear.

A large bathroom has specially designed equipment. All doorways are three feet wide to accommodate his wheel chair and there is an exercise room in the basement.

Until Public Law 702 became effective in 1948, Grimley said, he had little hope he would be able to own a home. In the meantime, he studied office management under the G. I. bill and is now a bookkeeper for a motor sales firm in Columbus, O.

Defeat Cincy Team For 19th

Undefeated Champion Five Wins At Kent

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, March 9—(AP)—Ohio's 1949 high school basketball kings, Hamilton Public and Delphos St. Johns, were a step nearer the 1950 championships today.

Hamilton's Big Blue boys pushed aside one of their most formidable foes last night in the Cincinnati district finals to become the first Class A Club to win a berth in the regionals.

The Butler county powerhouse, racking up its 19th win in 22 starts, defeated Cincinnati Purcell 50 to 45. Purcell had been beaten only once in 21 previous games.

With only 45 seconds to go, Hamilton was ahead only 46-45, but Joe Nuxhall dropped a pair of free throws and Bob Smith snared a fielder before the final gun. At one time in the third period Hamilton had a 13-point edge, but Purcell pulled up within a point.

Hamilton will battle it out next week in the regionals against the winners of the Athens, Troy and Dayton tournaments for a berth in the state finals.

Delphos St. John, with six-foot seven-inch center Dick Honingford pouring in 36 points, came up with an easy 64-38 victory over Wapakoneta St. Joseph at Celina. It was the 26th win in 27 starts for the Class B rulers. Honingford was a "ball of fire" as he connected for 10 fielders and 16 free throws. Two St. Joe centers fouled out trying to stop him, and the third had four fouls when the game ended.

Frank Sowecke, the Delphos coach, is at the helm there for the first year. Coach R. E. Bechtel, who piloted the champs last season, resigned at the close of the school year. Sowecke, who coached Somerset to the Class B. state championship in 1942, was called in from Elyria High school where he was backfield football coach and had a lot to do with developing Vic Janowicz, the Ohio State whiz. Sowecke is a Dayton Kiser and Ohio University graduate.

A flock of high-powered talent, and one of the "Cinderella" teams fell by the wayside in last night's 28-game program. Scio, which had won 24 straight, was victimized 66-59 by Strasburg at Steubenville, the winners racking up their 22nd win in 27 starts. At Kent, Champion gained its 25th consecutive victory, 47-34 over Avon Lake which had dropped only one of 19. Cedarville's fine team continued to roll at Xenia, winning its 22nd in 23 games by 55-52 over Mason.

Middleport, the "Cinderella" team which had won three tournament games after losing 15 straight during the regular season, finally was stopped as it dropped a 42-38 decision to New Lexington (13-10) at Athens. New Lexington meets Corning (22-4) in Friday's finals.

Two Springfield teams—Public and Central Catholic—reached the semi-finals of the Class A meet at Troy last night, and will meet in an "anything can happen" clash Friday. Public High ousted Sidney 59-40, and Central Catholic was a 42-35 winner over Miamisburg. Friday's game will be the first between the two Springfield squads since the 1936-37 season.

In the Berea Class A meet, Cleveland Lincoln and Cleveland St. Ignatius reached Friday's finals. Lincoln with a 51-45 win over Lorain, and Ignatius 55-45 over Elyria.

Ravenna, Akron Garfield and Akron East moved along in the Akron Class A district with 28 victories last night, as did Boardman and Youngstown South in frays at Youngstown.

Last night's events cut the starting Class B field of 904 down to 62, and the 226 Class A starters down to 51. Only 16 in each class will be on hand Saturday night—ready for next week's regionals.

Top attractions tonight include the eastern district Class A finals between Steubenville (16-8) and Dover (12-8) at New Concord; Middletown vs Dayton Stivers at Dayton; Canton McKinley vs Youngstown Ursuline at Youngstown, and Akron South vs Massillon at Akron.

A. P. All-American Team Is Selected

NEW YORK, March 9—(AP)—Bob Cousy, Holy Cross; Paul Arizin, Villanova; Dick Schmitz, Ohio State; Paul Unruh, Bradley and Kevin O'Shea, Notre Dame, were named today to the 1950 Associated Press All-American collegiate basketball team.

This all-senior team from five different schools was picked by a vote of 429 sports writers and broadcasters in the wake of a fiercely contested season in all parts of the country.

Cousy, whose wizard ball-handling and shooting sparked Holy Cross to its string of 29 straight victories before Columbia upset the Crusaders last Saturday, topped the voting.

On the basis of five points for each first team vote and two points for a second team vote, the 6 foot 1 inch Cousy, of St. Albans, N. Y., polled 1,424 points on 270 first and 37 seconds. This compares to a perfect count of 2,145.

Villanova's Arizin, the top scorer in the country for major schools, received 1,004 points on 170 first and 77 seconds. Schmitz, who sparked Ohio State to the Big Ten championship, was third with 987 points on 117 firsts and 66 seconds.

Unruh, star of Bradley's No. 1 ranked team, got 155 firsts and 91 seconds for 957 points. Notre Dame's O'Shea, who made the 1948 All-America as a sophomore, then slipped to the third team last year, regained top spot with 710 points on 102 firsts and 100 seconds.

Al Benton Set For Good Year

Conditioning Himself At Tribe Tucson Camp

TUCSON, Ariz., March 9—(AP)—Al Benton ran, ran, ran, for five whole days at the Cleveland Indians' spring training camp.

Then the big relief pitcher took to the mound. His brief stint yesterday during batting practice was the first throwing he's done since coming to camp.

Big Ben, sitting in the clubhouse and wiping streams of perspiration from his brow, explained, "My legs are the important thing. I'm not worried about my weight and I don't have to keep pitching to have control. I could go out there now and I would have pretty good control. It's my legs that need conditioning, so I'm going to take it slow and easy. The season doesn't open for quite a while yet."

The six-foot, four, 215-pound Oklahoman then confided that his legs "don't ache like they did a couple of days ago—but, brother, it's not easy anymore. Every year it gets harder to get into shape when you get my age."

His "age" is a bit indefinite. The American League red book says Benton was born in March 18, 1913, but the Indians' roster lists his birth at Noble, Okla., as coming two years earlier. Either way, Al is no youngster.

A week ago, when camp opened, Manager Lou Boudreau told Benton he was on his own. He wouldn't be expected to keep pace with the younger players nor would he be expected to pitch as soon as the others.

Boudreau probably was mentally tabulating the aging hurler's standout performance last season as a reliever. He was a good deal more important to Cleveland than his nine wins, six losses would appear.

Benton appeared as a relief pitcher in 29 games and tossed 58 innings. He yielded only four runs, and his earned run average in relief twirling was an incredibly low 0.06. Counting the 11 games he started, his average was 2.12.

No one in either league matched that record in 1949.

Al said he thought it was "pretty nice of him (Boudreau) to let me train myself. That's the way I wanted it, but I didn't ask him to let me be on my own. It was his idea. He told me to let him know when I thought I was ready to pitch."

The short-stop manager, after swinging at a few of Benton's offerings yesterday, commented, "Big Ben's going to be all right. Why, he has as much stuff right now as he ever does. I don't have to worry about him. He'll take care of himself."

This is the towering Oklahoman's first spring with the Tribe. He was purchased from Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League on opening day of the 1949 season. Benton had been given his unconditional release by the Detroit Tigers at the end of the 1948 season.

May Hold Rowing Regatta In Marietta

MARIETTA, March 9—(AP)—A "favorable" report on Marietta as a site for the American Inter-Collegiate Rowing Association regatta was promised by an association official last night.

The famed regatta has been held at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., in the past. Its transfer has been under discussion for some time.

National rowing officials yesterday inspected the Marietta course. Before leaving here, Asa S. Bushnell, secretary of the stewards and a member of the inspection party, said:

"We have been quite favorably impressed by facilities, the course, the enthusiastic interest of the townspeople of Marietta. And we will so report to the board of stewards."

Bushnell is a native of Springfield, O.

The board will meet soon to consider the report, Bushnell said.

The inspection party braved cold weather to travel the course by boat and to follow it along a nearby road.

Bushnell talked to a group of 40 Marietta civic leaders last night, complimenting them on their civic spirit and calling the rowing course "excellent."

J. Ellis MacDonald, chairman of the Marietta Rowing Commission, said he hoped that "all the best crews in America" will be at Marietta June 17.

$10,000 Miami Open Will Begin Today

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 9—(AP)—One of the largest and most cosmopolitan fields of golfers—225 pros and amateurs—tees off today in the $10,000 Miami Beach Open over the toughened Bayshore and Normandy Isle courses.

The four-day 72-hole tournament—first of its kind in this resort city in 20 years—will end Sunday with $2,000 cash awaiting the winner.

Gene Sarazen of Germantown, N. Y., winner of the last Miami Beach Open in 1930, is on hand and has taken the role of defending champion.

Jack Burke, Jr., of White Plains, N. Y., is rated the player to beat. Other leading pros in the field include Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., winner of the recent Phoenix Open.

Amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo, former British amateur champion and winner of the Dixie Amateur at Miami last week, also is one of the leading contenders.

Holy Cross Bows For Second Time To Yale

NEW YORK, March 9—(AP)—Holy Cross, Duquesne and Syracuse, all tournament-bound, took it on the chin last night in college basketball.

Holy Cross, District One's representative in the NCAA playoffs, was upset by Yale, 66-62, at New Haven, Conn.

Duquesne and Syracuse, both in the National Invitation tournament, were beaten by Villanova, 68-52, and Canisius, 65-64, respectively.

Yale, behind at one time by 10 points in the second half, put on a great rally to whip Holy Cross on two field goals by Stan Peacock in the last 90 seconds.

It was the second straight defeat for Holy Cross after 29 straight victories, including a carryover of three from last year. Bob Cousy, named to the Associated Press All-America team announced today, sparked Holy Cross with 18 points, but oddly it was he Peacock faked out of position twice to score his two field goals on layup shots.

Villanova, out in the cold for a tourney bid because of difficulties with the NCAA, plastered Duquesne before 8,735 fans in the feature of a doubleheader at Philadelphia's Palestra.

The New York Giants' team home run total of 221 in 1947 is 39 more than the second highest mark ever made.

Fried Feline Survives

Cat Lives 36 Hours In Fiery Clay Kiln

MINERVA, March 9—(AP)—An ordinary calico cat which emerged singed, thirsty but alive after 36 hours in a fiery kiln was an object of scientific interest today.

Dr. William Orr, the veterinarian in this Stark-Carroll county village, exclaimed, "it's a strange case that wouldn't happen again in a 100 years. The animal's foot pads were burned off, the top of its skull was scorched, the end of its nose was charred and its body burned as dry as a cracker when it was brought to me."

Dr. Orr pumped food into the baked puss's veins after putting the cat under sedatives. Today, it was jumping into his lap to be fed.

The cat was sealed accidentally in a kiln at the Metropolitan Brick Co. plant here Friday night. Temperature in the oven reached up to 900 degrees Fahrenheit. When the kiln was opened Sunday, the durable feline tottered out before the astonished eyes of workers.

The veterinarian said he investigated the case carefully yesterday with Plant Superintendent Joe Bucola and both agreed that any other explanation was out of the question—the animal had stood the heat for a day and a half and had survived.

Bucola said no part of the kiln could have had a temperature of less than 400 degrees. Workmen doubted of the cat could have found a place cooler than 600 degrees.

"It's fantastic but true," Dr. Orr declared, "I intend to write to the American Veterinarian Medical Association to find out if there are any records of similar occurrences."

saucer has some small wings and is almost egg-shaped. It appears to be of aluminum."

Astronomers pointed out that the planet Venus shines very brightly this time of year.

At Van Nuys, Cal., an actor and a composer also claimed they saw what looked like a saucer through a foggy sky.

Composer Eddie Coffman said he first saw the saucer at 12:10 a. m. He got his neighbor, Actor Reed Hadley, to help him watch for it and it flew by again at 12:20.

"It looked like a complete sphere, 50 feet across and dark on the top," Coffman said. "There were no distinguishing markings. It looked like it was about 400 feet up."

Coffman and Hadley denied it could have been the full moon.

Federal Milk Order Will Be Explained

The Federal Milk Marketing order will be explained to area farmers by Charleton F. Christian, milk marketing specialist of Ohio State University, at the Petersburg High School Friday.

Although the cities of Akron, Columbus, Cleveland and Pittsburgh are operating under the milk order, the Youngstown area is one of the few in the country not adopting such an order.

Mr. Christian was asked to explain the order by Ben Young, chairman of the newly formed Mahoning Valley Milk Producers.

Other officers of the new milk group are Richard Gidley of Salem, secretary-treasurer; Barry Dickson of Unity; Lyle Richards, Arthur Beard, and Loren Moff of Canfield; Darrell Bacon of New Springfield; Channing Mercer of Petersburg and Ralph Schrock of North Jackson.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. Frank Vanek

Mrs. Frances Vanek, 68, died at 9:20 p. m. Wednesday at City Hospital after three-years' illness. In recent years she had made her home with daughters in Salem.

Born March 6, 1882 in Czechoslovakia, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Prohaska. Her husband, Frank, died in 1944. Mrs. Vanek came to this country and Salem 38 years ago.

Survivors include a son, Frank, of Reno, Nev.; four daughters, Mrs. Harry Pelton, Mrs. Leo Kline and Mrs. Wayne Russell, all of Salem, and Mrs. Ray Gill of Ventura, Calif., and four grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home, with Rev. G. D. Keister and Rev. R. J. Hunter officiating. Burial will be in Hope Cemetery.

Mrs. Charles Hum, Jr.

Mrs. Catherine Elizabeth Hum, 65, of 251 E. Sixth st., died at 10:45 p. m. Wednesday at the Central Clinic. She was taken ill three weeks ago and has been in the clinic since that time.

Born Jan. 19, 1885, in Leetonia, she was the daughter of Aaron and Alice Grove Gongaware. She and her husband moved to Salem from Washingtonville in 1928 and she belonged to the Salem Christian Church and Home Lodge, Daughters of Rebekah.

Survivors besides her husband include a son, Charles L. Hum, Jr.; two daughters, Mrs. Fred Knorr of Akron and Mrs. Hugh Gardner of Adrian, Mich.; two grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Gene Lyle of Alliance and a brother, Ralph Gongaware of Leetonia.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Stark Memorial, in charge of Rev. E. S. Scott. Interment will be in Columbiana Cemetery.

Friends may call Friday afternoon and evening at the Memorial.

William S. McCormick

LISBON, March 9—William S. McCormick, 74, died at his home near Gavers Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. He had been in failing health for two years.

Born in Madison township, Aug. 20, 1875, he was a son of James and Mary Adams McCormick. A farmer and lifelong resident of this vicinity, he was a member of the West Beaver United Presbyterian Church.

Surviving is his wife, Mrs. Vada Crawford McCormick.

Friends may call at the home this evening.

Services will be held from the West Beaver Church Friday at 2 p. m. in charge of Rev. T. R. Aiken, the pastor. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Million Dollar Fire Hits Boston District

BOSTON, March 9—(AP)—A million dollar fire whipped through two commercial buildings, jumped to a third, and threatened a rich downtown business district before it was controlled early today.

Fire Chief John McDonough estimated the damage.

The blaze, originating in a four-story brick structure at 195-201 Congress st., leaped a parking lot to a six-story block at 110 Federal st. It then spilled into a Leather st. building.

The alarms brought out all the city's fire fighting equipment and fill-in apparatus from ten surrounding cities and towns.

The area houses the huge United Shoe Machinery and Chamber of Commerce Buildings.

Maintain Gas, Power Despite Strike

PARIS, March 9—(AP)—The French government nipped a nationwide power and light strike today by drafting utility workers but failed to keep gas supplies normal.

Hours after the strikes were scheduled to begin—at midnight last night—electricity service was normal in the Paris region.

But gas pressure was barely perceptible this morning at the hours when most Parisians fix their breakfast coffee.

Power station crews, who received their draft notices yesterday afternoon, had reported for work on the night shift without incident. Workers striking in defiance of the draft orders are subject to penalties up to five years in prison.

The commerce and industry ministry reported this morning the power rating in Paris electricity plants was about normal and far above the level available in previous strikes. They said there probably would be no current shutdowns.

Democrats Rally To Save Rent Control

WASHINGTON, March 9—(AP)—Administration leaders in the Senate rallied today for a battle to save federal rent controls, now due to expire June 30.

Before the Senate was a $750,000,000 money bill containing a provision which would order the office of the housing expediter—which administers rent control—to start paying off its more than 4,000 workers, in preparation for closing up shop at the end of June.

This order was attached by the Senate appropriations committee to a measure carrying cash to keep various federal agencies running between now and June 30, the end of the 1950 fiscal year.

Senators from states with large cities promised a fight against the rent control amendment.

Veep Wants Unity, Tolerance In U. S.

HOUSTON, Tex., March 9.—(AP)—Vice President Alben W. Barkley lashed out yesterday at Soviet Russia and called for American unity to meet the threat of Communist totalitarianism, which is "knocking at our doors."

He called, too, for an end of religious and racial intolerance and expressed the view that teaching of the principles of brotherhood should begin in childhood.

The Vice President referred to communism as a ruthless godless ideology which denies not only that all men are creatures of God but also all of the rights and liberties which Americans cherish.

There has never been a time in the history of the United States when liberty and freedom needed more to be fortified by unity than today, he declared in a Houston speech.

"No one in authority in 1945 could have foreseen that five years after the end of the war there would have been no peace in the world and that one of our great allies would have turned enemy and be making us spend $17 billions for our defense," he said.

JOZEF PATYK, Polish consul in Pittsburgh who resigned because he feels his government is a victim of Russian imperialism, asks that he and his wife and 10-year-old daughter be permitted to remain in the U. S.

SCALLOPS FOR TWO... Quick and easy Lenten dish.

Lenten Meals for Two

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

IT'S easy to shop for and to prepare fish for two during Lent, and so even if this is your first or second year of housekeeping you can plan well these next weeks.

Boiled scallops are simple to cook and delicious. Follow the menu that has become so popular in New York seafood restaurants in the past few years and with the scallops serve huge baked potatoes criss-crossed and blessed with generous wads of butter. And perk sprigs of parsley atop the potatoes. I was interested to notice recently that one seafood restaurant had not only a pepper on the table but the shaker of paprika and one of salt and pepper on the table but celery salt as well. Both these add potatoes. Hot crusty rolls are perfect with this meal and if you feel ambitious run up a lemon chiffon pie for dessert. Here's how to fix the scallops.

SCALLOPS FOR TWO

Arrange one-half pound bay scallops in two well-buttered scallop shells. If large set scallops are used cut each one into smaller pieces. Squeeze the juice of half a lemon over the scallops, sprinkle with salt and freshly-ground pepper, and dot with butter. Place in the broiling compartment about 2 inches from the flame and broil 5 to 8 minutes. Do not overcook. Scallops can be broiled in the broiling pan if scallop shells are not available. Serve with lemon wedges, cucumber slices, and tartar sauce if desired.

Note: Frozen scallops are available for those who cannot buy fresh scallops. And now a New England firm is canning scallops in No. 1 flats and No. 1 talls as well as in seven-ounce cans.

Just in time to give the new housekeeper help with cooking in general is a revised edition of the JUST FOR TWO COOK-BOOK, by Lily Haxworth Wallace, (Barrows, New York, $2.50). Mrs. Wallace has included lots of cookery information along with her recipes, and there's a chapter on marketing tips and one on measurements and methods. The recipes include all the main categories, from breads to salads, and for the most part their yield for two—is a reasonable one: not too small to be impractical, but not so large that it will take you and your husband forever to eat up the dish. It's too bad that more specific pan sizes aren't given with the cake and bread recipes, but since homemakers tend to use the pans they have on hand anyway maybe this won't throw you!

Cooked celery may be served in a variety of ways. Team it with peas or carrots if you like, serve it creamed, or add it to leftover soup.

Want a new sandwich filling for the lunchbox? Use a half cup of ground bologna sausage with a hard-cooked egg and season with sweet pickle relish, onion juice, salad dressing, salt and pepper.

Gingerbread For Variety

NO dessert base is so versatile or popular as a good brown gingerbread. Concocting new desserts with gingerbread is easy for its spicy flavor blends happily with both tart and sweet sauces. From the very same basic recipe you can make a new cottage pudding, a pineapple upside down cake or cream cheese squares that double as a dessert or sweet sandwich with tea.

Here's how. Start with this new recipe for gingerbread. It's made with ready-to-eat bran cereal and has a texture you'll like better than the usual variety.

BRAN GINGERBREAD

1/3 c shortening

1/3 c sugar
2 eggs
3/4 c molasses
3/4 c boiling water
3/4 c ready-to-eat bran
2 c sifted flour
1/2 t salt
1 t baking powder
1 t soda
1 t ginger
2 t cinnamon

Blend shortening and sugar; add eggs and beat until creamy. Add molasses and mix well. Pour boiling water over bran and add to first mixture. Add flour sifted with remaining ingredients and stir until batter is smooth. Bake in greased pan, with waxed paper in the bottom, in moderate oven

For a pudding dessert serve the gingerbread in pie-shaped wedges and top it with a Foamy Raisin-Orange Sauce.

Foamy Raisin-Orange Sauce

2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
1/4 c sugar
1/2 c orange juice
1 t grated orange rind
2 T lemon juice
2 egg whites stiffly beaten
1/2 c seedless raisins.

Combine egg yolks with sugar in top of double boiler; add orange juice, orange rind and lemon juice and raisins. Cook mixture over hot water until slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; cool. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Yield: 2 cups sauce.

Try this sweet pineapple mixture with gingerbread. It's a wonderful sweet-tooth satisfier.

Pineapple Upside Down Gingercake

2 T butter
1/3 c brown sugar
4 slices canned pineapple OR 1 c crushed pineapple, drained
Melt butter in pan; add brown sugar and distribute evenly over bottom of pan. Arrange fruit on top of sugar mixture. Spread gingerbread batter on top of fruit. Yield: 6-8 servings (9-inch pan).

Gingerbread topped with a spread of cream cheese is "something new" for your afternoon hostessing. It takes the place of sandwiches with tea. Larger wedges do for family dinner dessert.

Cream Cheese Topping

Moisten two packages of cream cheese with sweet milk or cream. Add 1/2 cup finely chopped nuts, spread mixture on cool gingerbread.

Yams! Vitamin Rich

YAMS for breakfast?

Of course — in the form and shape of some deliciously different little rolls and fancy biscuits. Children will love them for their piquant good flavor and lively coloring—but they pack a load of breakfast-to-lunch nourishment which belies their innocent fancy look.

Vitamin-rich yam sweet potatoes in any form always give the meal a resounding pick-up and satisfying quality—and so will these little Breakfast Yam Goodies:

Breakfast Yam Goodies

1 c prepared biscuit mix
3 T sugar
1/4 t salt
4 T milk
2 T melted butter of fortified margarine

1 c mashed canned yams
Cinnamon, marmalade

Add sugar and salt to the biscuit mix, stir in the milk and melted fat. Mash the yams, adding just a little of the syrup from the can to soften. Add yams to biscuit mixture. Roll out on floured board to 1/2-inch thickness. Dust lightly with cinnamon. Cut in round or fancy shapes. Dot each with half teaspoon of apricot marmalade.

Variation: Dot with pineapple or sour cherry preserve, or orange marmalade.

Pinwheels: Roll dough to one-fourth inch thickness and spread with marmalade or preserves. Dust with cinnamon. Roll as a jelly roll, slice roundwise and bake in greased baking pan 15 to 20 minutes in 425 degree F. oven.

CANDY YAMS

Use of brown sugar for candying yams instead of white sugar doubtless had its early inspiration on the old sugar plantations where there was always a good supply of coarse-grained sugar in an early stage of refinement. Plantation cooks found that its strong, sweet flavor blended perfectly with the deep-toned native yam.

While it would be hard to improve upon the popular candied yam done to a glossy turn in a dark syrup, white sugar syrup does have an advantage when it is desirable to keep the natural red-gold color of the yam and to emphasize a natural sweet potato flavor. White sugar has no tendency to discolor and it leaves the yam more receptive to other flavors such as lemon, orange, pineapple, and to spice and wine flavors which do so much to bring out the true sweet potato flavor.

Try making that next casserole of yams with a white sugar syrup and see if the result isn't something unusually delicious, with loads of eye-appeal as well as good, new flavor.

Golden Yams Fiquante

4 to 5 medium yams or one large can yams
2 T butter or margarine
Piece cinnamon stick
1 c white sugar
1/2 c water
1/2 lemon
Tenderize the sweet potatoes in their skins. Peel, cut in half, and arrange in buttered baking dish. Dot with butter. Add small piece of cinnamon stick. Make syrup of sugar and water. Bring to boil, adding slice of the lemon. Sprinkle juice from remaining lemon over yams, cover with syrup. Bake 20 minutes in moderate oven (375 degrees F.)

FRESH PASTRY DAILY

IT'S A BIG DAY in the life of 19-months-old Lorraine Dubolsky, who is a bit shy, as she casts away her crutches in the Jersey City, N. J., Medical Center and prepares to walk out. Stricken in both legs by infantile paralysis, the tot is now well and able to return to her North Bergen, N. J., home.

Different, But Good Dessert

Cookie-Candies
1 c butter or margarine
¾ c sifted confectioners' sugar
1 T vanilla
¾ t salt
1 c uncooked rolled oats
2 c sifted, enriched all-purpose flour

2 c semi-sweet chocolate pieces
¼ c milk
Chopped walnuts
Shredded coconut
Chocolate sprinkles

Heat oven to 325° F. (moderate). Rub butter with spoon in bowl till creamy; add sugar slowly, while rubbing. Stir in vanilla, salt; then oats, flour. With fingers, shape teaspoonfuls of dough into rounds, balls, crescents, triangles, and bars. Bake on ungreased cookie sheets at 325° F. 25 to 30 min., or till golden around edges. Cool. Next melt chocolate in double boiler; add milk; beat smooth with hand or electric beater. Drop cookies one by one, rounded side down, on chocolate; lift out with tongs or 2 forks; then leave plain, or dip in nuts, coconut, or sprinkles. Set on racks. Makes 4 doz.

Pecan Date Squares
Ingredients: 1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup shortening, 1 cup honey, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 3 eggs, 1 cup sliced pitted dates, 1 cup sliced pecan nuts, confectioners' sugar.

Method: Mix and sift flour, baking powder, and salt. Mix the shortening, honey, and vanilla until creamy. Beat in eggs one at a time. Add the dry ingredients and blend. Add dates and pecans and stir just enough to distribute evenly. Spread in a greased 9x12-inch pan. Bake in a moderate (350° F.) oven until golden brown, 30 to 35 minutes. Cool in pan. Cut into 1x3-inch bars and roll in confectioners' sugar. Makes 3 dozen.

Banana-Coconut Crisp

2 bananas
1 T light cream
¼ c cornflakes, rolled fine
1 t sugar
¼ t cinnamon
2 T butter or margarine
1 t lemon juice
2 T shredded coconut
Peel bananas, and cut in 1" chunks. Dip in cream. Blend cornflakes, sugar, and cinnamon. Roll banana chunks in this mixture. Melt butter in small skillet; then saute' bananas till tender, turning to brown on all sides (2 to 3 min.). Sprinkle with lemon juice. Serve crisps, sprinkled with coconut, on dessert plates. Makes 2 servings.

Ginger Crunch
1 No. 2½ can apricot halves
1½ c crisp ginger-cookie crumbs, rolled fine (about 20)
3 T brown sugar
½ t cinnamon
¼ t allspice
3 T butter or margarine
Heat oven to 375° F. (moderately hot). Drain apricots. Arrange in greased 10"x6"x2" baking dish. Combine cookie crumbs, brown sugar, spices, and butter; mix until crumbly. Sprinkle evenly over apricots. Bake at 375° F. 25 min. Serve warm, with light cream. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Delicious served with small scoop of vanilla ice cream.

Youngsters enjoy making their own candy. Make it the way they do. Melt a package of semi-sweet chocolate pieces over hot water and then stir in two cups of corn flakes, some raisins and some chopped pitted dried prunes. Drop the confection onto waxed paper with a teaspoon so as to make small rounds.

GARDEN CLUB PARTY . . . The glass salad bowl is shaped like a huge poppy, and has matching glass serving pieces. The dessert dishes are peonies done in glass, with bowl attached to saucer.

Budget Buffet Table

SALAD days used to be restricted to spring and summer, with pickles, relishes and occasional winter cabbage slaw filling in the rest of the year. And how delicious that first lettuce salad of spring! But Mrs. Housewife is queen, and now growers, shipper, wholesalers, on down to your grower, do their best to keep you in fresh crisp greens for salad every day of the year.

EXPERT AND NOVICE ACCLAIM

CUPLETS[®] CUP CAKE MIX

Couplets for making cup cakes or one nine inch layer delights all kinds of cooks. Convenient for the expert—just add an egg and milk, and bake. Sure results for brides because precision-blended.

But somehow a delicate green salad still tastes better when spring is in the air, though not yet in the weather report. Use those tender spring onions and precious radishes along with lettuce, and add mustard and horseradish both to wake up stalled appetites.

SUPPER SALAD:

1 head lettuce
3 green onions, sliced
3 radishes sliced
¼ c mayonnaise
1 t each vinegar, prepared mustard and horseradish.
Tear lettuce into small pieces. Add onions and radishes. Mix mayonnaise with remaining ingredients and toss with salad.

Monday meals are often dull. Probably you'll be having chicken lots of these Sundays. If so, save the livers to make a special salad for Monday night.

FOIE SALAD:

1 head lettuce
2 chicken livers
3 hard-cooked egg yolks
1 t prepared mustard
½ t salt
Dash black pepper
2 T salad or olive oil
1 T vinegar
Simmer chicken livers until tender. Mash with egg yolks and press through a sieve. Mix with mustard, salt and pepper, then blend with salad oil. Add vinegar slowly and mix well. Pour over lettuce, in quarters or shredded. Serves 4 to 6.

Another time, try crumbling crisp bacon and blue cheese over lettuce, and toss with French dressing. Superb with hamburger steaks.

Leetonia Students To Go To Exposition

LEETONIA, March 9—More than 100 freshmen and seniors from Leetonia High School on Tuesday will go to Youngstown to attend the Industrial Exposition at the Stambaugh auditorium.

Purpose of the trip is to acquaint the pupils with some of the 12,000 different kinds of jobs in this area. It is a school function and the youths and advisors will make the trip in school buses.

Charles Weidman is freshman class advisor and Miss Florence Wilhelm advisor for the senior class.

Bob Ford, naturalist and lecturer, will present the next High School assembly program. He will show movies and a talk on wildlife with emphasis on the feathered life. He duplicates the calls of the birds as a result of years of study and experience in wildlife work.

The program is sponsored by the student council.

Approximately 200 High School students and 50 adults enjoyed the recent Patron-Teachers Association program. Mrs. Gilbert Edgerton was program chairman for the meeting. She and her husband directed the square dancing in the school gym.

Corn suffers from 112 different diseases.

Small Talk

Expressive before the camera, the diaper set also is word-wise, or should be. On authority of the editor of Stork News, Syms (Samuel B. Gornbein) of Los Angeles, these babies have as much to say as any adult and in about the same way. TOMORROW: more cuties.

"Berle... Who's Berle?"

"Good gracious... how awful!"

"Go kinda easy on the soda."

"Well, now... I wouldn't say that."

High School Pupils Put On Talent Show

Salem High School certainly is not lacking in musical talent. This was proven again Wednesday morning in the Student Council Talent Assembly when 16 pupils in 10 acts presented their numbers with the ability and poise of seasoned performers.

The "Starlighters," six-piece freshman male orchestra, was first on the program. They presented two selections with John Litty producing "music" through a bathroom bazooka between the numbers. In the orchestra are: Litty, Bruce Snyder, Ralph Firestone, Don McCormick, Gail Brown and Bill Ward.

Rosemarie Faini was heard in an entertaining piano solo. Mary Jane Taflan charmed the high school audience with a vocal contribution. Ben Bailey discussed and gave an on-the-spot demonstration of modern music.

One listener said "Lucky Old Sun" might have been written for James Cosgarea's impressive voice. If there was a single "hit" of the assembly, it was Stephen Navayosky's accordion solo.

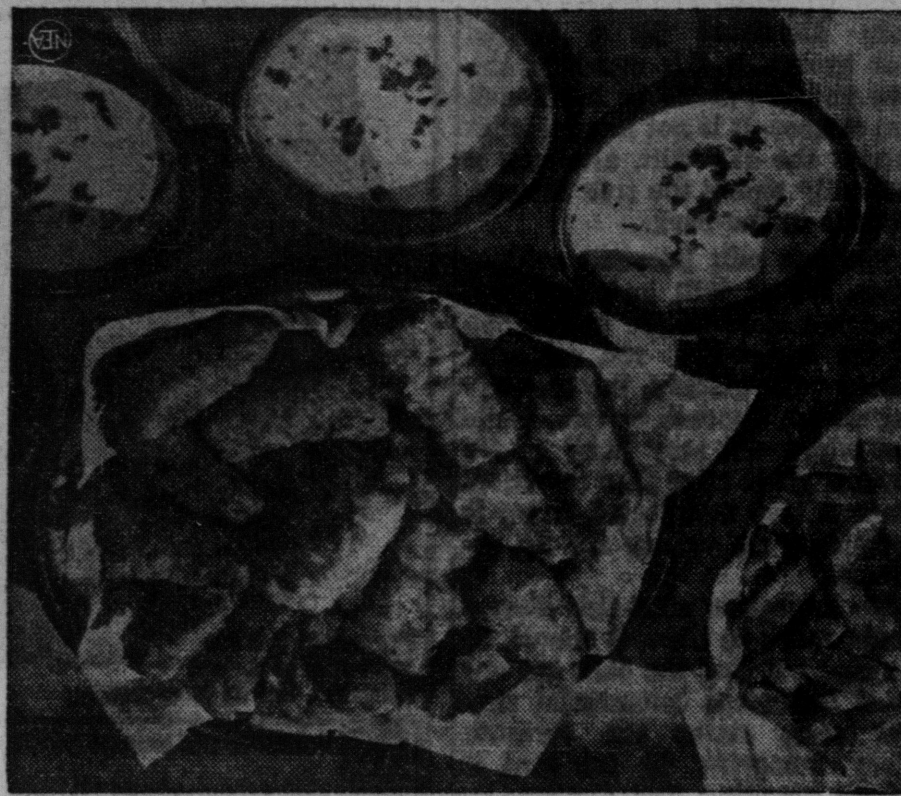

Bob Hill again found favor with his youthful audience in a song and dance number. Talented Joan Schuller drew applause with a piano solo and Mary Arbutis successfully completed the program in a vocal selection.

Fred Cope was master of ceremonies. He explained student council had found so much talent, another assembly will be held to present another group of high school performers.

Donald Loutzenheiser headed the council committee which arranged the program.

FOR LENTEN PARTY—"Fish 'n' chips"—finger-size fried fish with tartar sauce for dunking—makes novel Lenten informal party.

The Cookbook

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Fish 'n' Chips Make Party Fun

FOR a novel supper party during Lent follow the British custom of Fish 'n' Chips. Any time of the day, any season of the year, you'll find Britishers stopping for Fish 'n' Chips at tiny shops or even sidewalk stalls. For a small sum they buy crisp fried fish, and French fried potatoes. There is always a handy bowl of tartar sauce nearby for "dunking" because Fish 'n' Chips is finger food.

For your Fish 'n' Chips party, serve the food from baskets. A big basket of crisp fried fish, another of hot French fried potatoes, individual bowls of tartar sauce and the scene is set for a "serve yourself" supper that is sure to be fun. To complete this supper menu you might serve a tossed green salad and a simple dessert.

For golden brown, crisp and delicious fish, follow this simple cake ready-mix for economy, efficiency and outstanding flavor. A special blend of flours in a pancake coating retains a tempting crisp texture.

Use a lean type of fish that takes well to deep fat frying.

FOR A DIFFERENT BREAKFAST, USE

FLAKORN CORN MUFFIN MIX

Use Flakorn for crisp and tender piping hot corn muffins. U-m-m-m! Easy—just add an egg and milk, and bake. Always delicious—quality ingredients, precision-mixed.

such as haddock, whitefish, sole, cod, lake or sea trout. Either fresh or frozen fillets may be used.

When using frozen fish fillets, defrost and cut fish into strips about one by three inches for easy eating as finger food. Then roll in pancake ready-mix and fry in hot deep fat.

If you prefer to use fresh fish, dip the strips in egg wash, drain well and roll in pancake ready-mix. Then fry in deep hot fat. Here is the complete recipe.

French Fried Fish
Cut cleaned fish into strips three inches by one inch. If using fresh fish, dip in an egg wash prepared by combining one beaten egg and ½ cup of milk; drain well. (If using fish which has been frozen the egg wash isn't necessary.) Roll in dry ready-mix for pancakes. Shake off excess coating. Fry in hot deep fat (375 degrees F.) about 2 minutes. Crown Rust Disease May Have Serious Effect On Oats Crop

Crown rust may be a serious disease to oats in Ohio in 1950, says C. A. Lamb, of the department of agronomy of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station.

A form of this disease—Race 45—which attacks Clinton oats was present last year, Lamb continues, and pathologists are afraid it may survive the mild winter. If the weather becomes warm and humid after oats are growing, rust might cause a very serious reduction in yield and quality of the 1950 crop.

The agronomist lists these varieties as being susceptible to this particular race of crown rust—Clinton, Clinton 59, Clinton 11, Benton, Shelby, Andrew, Bonda, Mindo, and a dozen others.

The Canadian variety Ajax apparently has some resistance to it; Ajax has been on Ohio's recommended list for two years, and some seed is available. In the absence of disease it has yielded slightly less than Clinton, has been somewhat lower in weight per bushel, and is definitely not so stiff strawed. It is better adapted to northern than to central and southern Ohio.

For northern Ohio, Clinton 59 is probably first choice for 1950 planting, Clinton 11, or other re-selections from Clinton are equally good. Ajax is recommended as a slightly later white oat with somewhat different reaction to diseases.

Among many newer varieties tested, the most promising appear to be Mindo and Andrew, both of which are early yellow oats from Minnesota. They may be expected to do well in central and southern Ohio also.

In the southern part of the state, however, Columbia continued to yield as well as anything tested. Wayne seems probably to be dropped from consideration very soon, because Ajax is superior in all important respects. Other new varieties derived from Bonda crosses show no superiority to Clinton 59, Andrew or Mindo.

County Home Council Will Install Officers

Officers will be installed on Achievement Day Wednesday, Wednesday, April 12, when the Columbiana County Home Extension Council meets in the Masonic Temple here. They were elected at a meeting March 2.

Home Council will be in charge of reservations for the luncheon, to be held at noon in the Memorial building. The Homemakers Chorus, former council presidents, the Women's Campers and a home talent play will be included in the program.

New officers are: President, Mrs. Byron Anglemeyer of R. D. 5, Lisbon; vice president, Mrs. D. M. Allison of R. D. 3, Alliance; secretary, Mrs. W. E. Smith of R. D. 1, Rogers; treasurer, Mrs. Raymond Apple of R. D. 3, Lisbon, and publicity, Mrs. Esther Cox of R. D. 1, Kensington.

All women are invited to attend.

Area Farmers' Cows Complete Testing

Holstein-Friesian cows, Bricktown Daisy Commander, owned by John Herron of Beloit and Commander Pebble Beach Nina, owned by Kenneth P. McDannel of East Canton, have completed production tests made in Herd Improvement Registry.

Mr. Herren's cow completed a 326-day test of 572 pounds of butterfat and 14,117 pounds of 4.1 percent milk, while Mr. McDannel's cow was on a 365-day test of 799 pounds and 18,923 pounds of 4.2 percent milk.

"Nina" was milked twice daily and was five years 11 months when she began her test period, and "Daisy" was milked twice a day and was five years seven months when the test started.

Ohio State University supervised the testing in cooperation with the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Oak May Again Suffer Oak Wilt Tree Disease

Ohio again may suffer a serious tree disease—the oak wilt—says J. W. Meter, assistant forester at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station.

The oak wilt, a deadly fungus disease of the oaks, has started to spread southward and eastward from Iowa and southern Wisconsin and Minnesota, where it has been killing oak trees for several years.

The disease is now found throughout much of Iowa, Wisconsin, and Minnesota, continues Meter. It recently spread into Illinois, and just last year was found in Indiana and Missouri.

The cause of the disease has been identified as a fungus that grows in the wood of the tree and is related to the Dutch elm disease. It is not known what carries the oak wilt, although it evidently enters the tree through wounds in the bark.

The oak wilt becomes evident when leaves wilt and curl and branches start to die in the top of the tree. The red oak succumbs very quickly, the tree dying within a month or two, while the white oak may hang on for several years after first infection. Once a tree is infected there is seemingly no chance for its recovery.

To emphasize what this disease could mean to Ohio, it should be pointed out that the oaks are our most important commercial timber trees, states the forester. They comprise 40 per cent of Ohio's standing saw timber—an estimated three and a third billion board feet.

Oak trees dying under suspicious circumstances should be reported to the forestry department or the U. S. D. A., Division of Forest Pathology, Beltsville, Md.

Discussion To Be Held On Farm Partnerships

A meeting to discuss partnerships and other family farming arrangements will be held in the City hall at Lisbon at 1:30 p. m. Thursday, March 16. The meetings will be of special interest to father-son and brother combinations.

Attorney Lynn Riddle of Lisbon will discuss the legal aspect of partnerships and other farm arrangements. County Agents Floyd Lower and Harry Smith will discuss terms of partnership agreements. The meeting is open to the public.

How To Open Ditches In Swamps To Be Shown

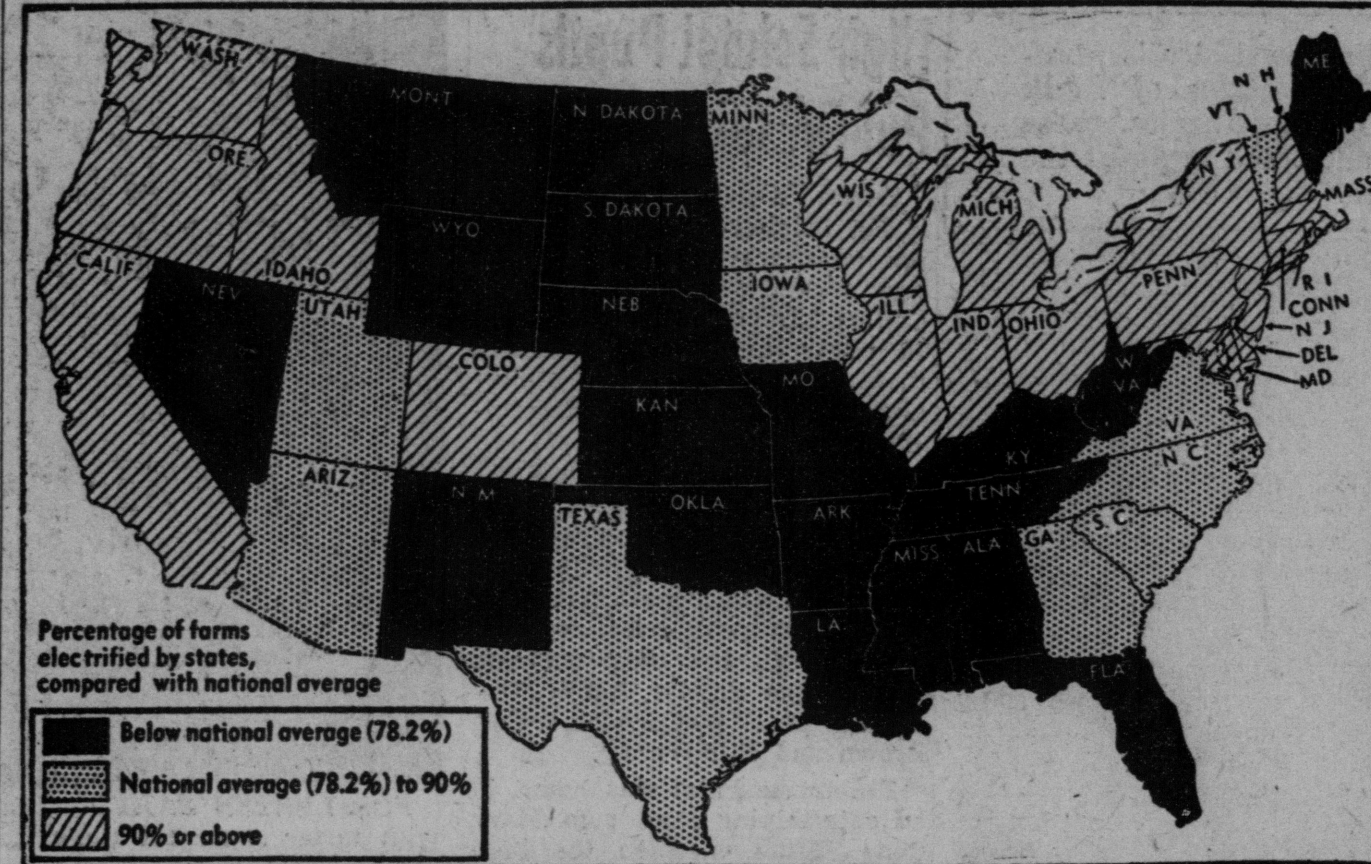

How to use dynamite to open ditches in swampy land will be demonstrated on three farms in Butler Township on Saturday, March 11. The Columbiana County Extension Agent and a representative of the Hercules Powder Company will conduct the demonstration.

The fotonote meeting will be on the farms of Cloyd Hahn and Charles Elder, one mile west of the Winona Tower at 9:30 to 11 a. m. In the afternoon a demonstration will be given on the P. M. Clark farm, one-half mile east of Valley on the Salem-North Georgetown road. Persons who attend should wear rubber boots because of the swampy conditions in the fields.

Large Crowd Expected At Conservation Confab

A large attendance of Columbiana County farmers is expected at the annual meeting of the Co-operators of the Soil Conservation District to be held in the Methodist Church basement in Lisbon Friday, beginning at 10 a. m.

Among the speakers will be

Census Will Provide Data On Farm Size

The 1950 Census of Agriculture will provide statistics on the size of farms in the United States.

In 1900, the census reported the average size of farm to be 146 acres. Since that time, the average size of farm as recorded by various censuses has increased until in 1945, farms in the United States averaged 195 acres in size.

Farmers will be asked to report the number of livestock on farms in 1950 and livestock products sold in 1949. The census will be taken in April in Columbiana County.

The results of the census when compared with reports for earlier censuses will show changes in livestock industry in the United States. According to the 1945 census the value of livestock and livestock products sold in 1944 amounted to $8,635 million.

In 1945, there were $2.6 million cattle and calves on farms, 46.7 million hogs and 41.2 million sheep and lambs.

Censuses taken during the last decade have provided detailed facts regarding farm size. The number of farms in various size groups in the United States in 1945 and 1940 were:

Size of Farm	1945 (Number of farms)	1940 (Number of farms)
Under 10 acres ..	594,561	506,402

Expense Raise For Congress Weighed

WASHINGTON, March 9—(AP)—House members may be called upon soon to vote themselves another $500 a year in expense money.

A House administration subcommittee is considering a bill which, if approved, would raise the annual telephone and telegraph allowance of House members from $500 to $1,000.

The committee has held one hearing on the bill and is scheduled to consider it again, probably next week, with strong indications that it will recommend passage.

Many members say the present $500 allowance for official business messages is inadequate and is unfair in that it gives nearby members more messages than it provides for those from distant districts.

Not all members use the entire $500 each year, but many say they spend much more than that and must make up the difference out of their personal funds.

The $500 is in addition to the $2,500 general expense allowance given all representatives. The $2,500, voted in 1946, is tax-free and the members are not required to account for its use. Most members draw it as part of their salary.

Stationery money doesn't come out of the $2,500 either. During the last fiscal year each house member was allowed $700 for stationery. The allotment this year is $500, but may be increased. Senators get the same amount.

Demand Steady For People For Top Jobs

COLUMBUS, March 9—(AP)—A steady demand for qualified persons to fill "good-paying jobs" exists in Ohio.

But, says the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, there are 200,000 unemployed persons registered for work in Ohio public employment centers.

In a monthly report, the BUC said jobs from $4,000 to $9,000 a year are still going unfilled. These jobs demand education and experience, the BUC added.

One of America's Greatest Retailers Points the Way to MORE SALES TODAY AT Lowest COST

By RICHARD H. EDWARDS, JR.*
Vice President, Jordan Marsh Co., Boston
One of America's Greatest Stores

● Our large use of newspaper advertising should be an interesting subject for explanation.

I am confident that the question that comes first to your mind is "Why do you use it?" and, second, "How do you justify such use of newspaper advertising?"

It is not very complex... not difficult... not mystical. It is very, very simple. We do use the largest black-and-white newspaper advertising of any store in the world.

COSTS ARE WELL BELOW AVERAGE

Now, the purpose of all advertising primarily is the creation of traffic and resulting sales. The ability to obtain satisfactory results at proper costs is the determinant factor as to whether or not the usage was proper. History—and naked fact—is the best proof of whether our policy is correct. Regarding sales, let me tell you that we have consistently bettered the Federal Reserve average for the city of Boston.

At the same time, using such lineage as we do, our newspaper costs in relation to sales are as low—or lower—percentage-wise as those of the average stores of NRDGA whose volumes are $50,000,000 and up.

That is the simple answer as to why we make such use of the newspaper medium of advertising.

Sales results are better than competition by actual record. Costs are as low or lower by actual measure.

I know that another question is "Will your advertising use of this medium continue at its high level?"

I can see no reason whatsoever why it should not so continue.

SALES RESULTS GOVERN DECISION

Costs being dependent on sales volume, if that volume continues at a high level, so will the advertising use of the medium. Therefore, it behooves newspapers to do everything within their power to assist the advertiser to maintain sales at the high level in order that they may maintain the usage of advertising at corresponding high levels.

I believe each newspaper... is a vehicle on which we can ride to display our merchandise to the consumer. The big problem is the use of the proper vehicle with the proper merchandise at the proper time to reach that desired consumer.

WHAT ABOUT TELEVISION?

... what effect is television... a presentation both visual and auditory... going to have on the advertising dollar?

*From an address to the Advertising Club of Boston, February 7, 1950.

I believe television is a good and growing and coming medium, but I do not think it will take away anything from the newspapers.

The newspaper is the only medium that permits advertisers to present their merchandise simultaneously before the same public and provides thereby the perfect opportunity of equality for competition.

No other medium permits it to anywhere near the same degree—and the success of one store or the other is dependent on the ability of the public to discern which is the best value and who has made the best presentation.

NEWSPAPERS REACH MORE PEOPLE

Also, newspaper advertising... is the only medium which permits an advertiser to reach the greatest and most complete cross-section of the public.

Many magazines direct... their readership to classes of readers... those interested in fashions, home furnishings, sports, etc.

Radio or television solicits by its programming... an audience along the lines of amusement or news and leaves such selection to the choice of the audience itself.

But the newspaper presents all these features to all classes of people simultaneously.

BIGGEST COVERAGE AT LOWEST COST

Further... the newspapers offer the greatest possible circulation at the lowest percentage of cost.

I know I am correct when I credit newspaper advertising with a major role in the success of Jordan Marsh sales accomplishments.

It isn't done with mirrors.

A lot of cold-blooded analysis of results has gone into the calculation of the advertising appropriation. We know what we must have to succeed... and we know wherein we can fail.

NEWSPAPER TIMING FAR SUPERIOR

Another vital factor is timing. Merchandise which arrives in our store this afternoon can be, by dint of hard work on the part of the newspapers, presented to the public within 24 hours in the newspaper.

This... virtue... is shared with radio, but we do know the newspaper will be printed tomorrow. We do know its circulation. And it would be necessary for us to see if we could find or buy radio time on the spur of the moment.

Remember, the newspaper is the one great advertising medium that awaits the convenience of the reader.

A newspaper ad lives for hours... sometimes for days. It is not received in a fleeting moment. It does not have to register within a brief time or be lost forever. It enters the home and is available to every member of the family at a time of his or her own choosing.

AGENCIES' OBLIGATION UNDERScoreD

Now I would like to address the advertising agencies. I think the agency has an obligation to guard against permitting a client to put too much advertising money into an unproven medium of any kind.

Agencies should not... be exclusively radio or television agencies or magazine agencies or newspaper agencies. They should be partners in the proper use of advertising expenditures to bring about the desired result for the client as efficiently and economically as possible by making use of the proper media to do so.

I believe agencies can learn a lesson if they will make a study of the advertising habits of some of America's largest department stores and their distribution of advertising dollars.

This newspaper is equipped to give you—and all advertisers and advertising agencies—substantial practical help toward more efficient use of your advertising dollar. Why not let us tackle your problem—today?
